VOYAGER

1944

Foreword

The staff of the 1944 "Voyager" feels that this year more than ever the students of Carnegie High will value a permanent record of their activities and of their comrades. Our class will be more quickly and perhaps more widely separated than those of former years. Many of our friends have already left school to enter the armed forces and many others expect to leave immediately after graduation. Because it is so much more difficult to obtain materials than it has ever been before, we have not attempted to outdo the efforts of previous classes; but we hope that we have recorded memories which you will cherish throughout the years to come. Turn back the page to September, 1943, and follow us through our last and best school year.

R. C. SCHUMACHER

DEDICATION

In appreciation of his sincere friendship for and interest in all students, in the school room as well as in the field of sports, and especially of his fine influence upon the boys whom he led as football coach, the Class of Nineteen Hundred Forty-four takes pleasure in dedicating this volume of the Voyager to Richard C. Schumacher, and deeply regrets that because of his resignation he will no longer be a member of the Carnegie High School Faculty.

Autumn

H. Howard Lee

Principal

Carnegie High School

Before becoming principal of Carnegie High School, Mr. Lee served the school faithfully as a teacher of science. For seven years he has offered his competent services as principal. The Class of 1944 will always associate him with thoughts of their happy days in high school.

Mr. Lee has set and upheld for himself and for the school a high standard of efficiency and discipline. He aids freshmen to settle into a comfortable routine; he advises upper-classmen concerning future employment or advanced education; and he enforces appropriate corrective measures for wayward students.

Without the willing cooperation and aid of Mr. Lee, our financial adviser, the Voyager Staff could never have published this, the twentieth edition of our annual.

We of the Class of '44 take this fine opportunity to thank him for everything he has done to help us.

IRENE WOLFORD

Miss Wolford, Mr. Lee's very capable secretary, is also teacher, ex officio general counselor, and one of the most popular people in the school. The most common phrase when someone is hunting for something is "Ask Miss Wolford." She knows where anything and everything is, and she is always willing to help one. For all her help, advice, and sympathy, Miss Wolford stands "tops" on our list.

Norman L. Glasser

Superintendent

Carnegie Borough Public Schools

In his eighteen years as Superintendent of the Carnegie Public Schools, Mr. Glasser has won the admiration and gratitude of the students who have come under his supervision. His keen thinking and quiet humor have endeared him to all who know him, and in spite of the many demands on his time, Mr. Glasser is never too busy to listen to the personal problems of the individual.

Not only is he intensely interested in all educational movements, but he also takes an active part in the many civic and patriotic projects of the community.

The Class of 1944 takes this opportunity to express its appreciation to Mr. Glasser.

EVA BLACKA

Mr. Glasser's secretary, Miss Blacka, is usually very busy with the affairs of all our public schools in Carnegie; however, she is never too busy to help out some poor student from High School who is hunting something or who needs her help in any way. She is friendly, cheerful, and helpful—a real friend of all the students of Carnegie High School.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

STANDING—T. B. Evans, James S. Brewer, W. C. Kearton, Charles M. Stockum, Norman L. Glasser, Superintendent.

SEATED—C. B. Nixon, Solicitor; C. E. Wallis, Vice-President; William C. Grove, President; George McFarland, Secretary.

During this and all preceding school years, the backbone of the schools has been the School Board. It is gratifying to the Class of 1944 to feel that, during their school years, the School Board has been backing their activities and projects wholeheartedly. This is our final chance to thank them for their support and we want them to know that they have our gratitude.

As this terrible war continues, school supplies have become harder and harder to obtain. Our School Board is fortunate indeed to be able to supply the essential paper, pencils, and books without too much difficulty. In parts of Europe and Asia, the only schools still operating are the schools of war in which young children are developed into "cannon fodder." Our School Board is only one of the many such organizations of classical and commercial education to which the American public owes thanks for their efforts to give a well-balanced education to the rising generation.

THE LATEST COMER—THE STUDENT-FACULTY COMMITTEE ON ACTIVITIES

SITTING—Gibbs, Mr. Hays, Yahres, Chappel, Miss Mitchell, Miss Brandon, Mrs. Drummond, Glasser, Davis.

STANDING—Brown, E. Higley, Miss Fry, S. Higley, Telthorster, Mr. Burkett, Morgan, Firth, Chidlow, Mrs. Mikus, Miss Wolford, Spelar, Miss Coogle, Miss Nesbitt, Mr. Lee, Schneider.

The Student-Faculty Committee is the school's newest organization, set up this year. As defined in its constitution, its purpose is "to correlate school activities." Its membership consists of club and class representatives along with their respective sponsors. A democratic feature of this group is that the student has a voice in school matters formerly left only to the faculty.

The Committee's specific work this past year has been to approve club constitutions, and set up a calendar for school activities. The welfare of the individual student has been kept in mind in setting up rules for admission to and membership in the organizations of the school.

The Committee's only social activity was the sponsorship of the first dance of the year, a very successful affair, the proceeds of which helped to purchase the new band uniforms.

THE FOOTBALL SQUAD—THEY CARRIED

With the return of ten lettermen and a squad of about 40 boys, Coaches Schumacher and Burkett found the makings of a team much superior to the one of last year. Weeks of hard training followed, which molded the boys into a fast, smart, and spirited team.

The first game took the Little Tartans to Bridgeville, where our boys returned the defeat handed them last year by a 6 to 0 score. This game and the next brought out a large and loyal following of enthusiastic students which pleased the coaches very much.

Chartiers, a new opponent of Carnegie, also went down in defeat after a stubborn battle, 7 to 0. In the next game, a favored Coraopolis team was unable to hold the Tartans, who triumphed, 7 to 0.

Stowe Township gave Carnegie its first setback of the season by a 14 to 0 score, although the Little Tartans oftentimes threatened to score.

McKees Rocks, a team which had lost only twice to Carnegie previous to this season, in a free-scoring game came out on the short end of a 19 to 13 score.

THE BALL

After this last win the Little Tartans seemed to have a slight chance against the strong team of our neighboring school, Scott Township. The two teams were about even on the ground, but Scott took to the air, and as a result scored two touchdowns to win 13 to 0.

The next game was at Dormont, where the Little Tartans held their own for three quarters. However, the Dormont offensive got under way in the last quarter and when the final whistle blew, the score was Dormont 19, Carnegie 7.

Canonsburg then came to visit the Little Tartans, and by intercepting two passes they were able to score and win 12 to 6.

The final game was with Crafton, and as usual was the most important to both schools. The scoring came late in the game, with Crafton scoring first on a long pass, but the Little Tartans marched right back to tie the score. As Carnegie prepared to kick off, it seemed as though the game would end in a tie, but a Crafton back took the ball and ran all the way to a touchdown. The game ended almost immediately afterwards, and Crafton walked off with the score 13 to 6 in their favor.

The season ended with four wins and five losses, and proved to be a fine improvement over former years. About the same number of lettermen are returning for next season, and we can again expect a good showing by our team.

THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION—MANAGING THE SPORTS

SEATED—Miss Mitchell, Mr. Lee, Mykita, Mr. Burkett. STANDING—Chappel, Washabaugh, Mr. Sawhill, Mr. Schumacher, Mr. Adams.

In charge of everything in the field of athletics at Carnegie High School is the Athletic Association.

Scheduling games, providing transportation, and handling the financial affairs of our sports events take much time and work from this association, which is made up of the coaches of our various teams, the instructors of physical education, and the three student officers elected from the senior class. During these war years the association has maintained a very good sports program and will continue to do so if it is at all possible.

The transfer of the treasurer, Craig

Washabaugh, to Pitt at mid-term necessitated the appointment of Robert Saracena to fill the position and he has proved his capability.

THE RISING GENERATION

Last September at Carnegie High, a group of young men and women entered into a new phase of their lives. They had just completed eight long, hard years of preliminary training, and were beginning a new course of studies which every young, ambitious person destined for success should encounter. They were the freshman class of '43 and '44.

At the start, high school life seemed hard and complicated to them, but they quickly became accustomed to it. They were getting along very well when all of a sudden a host of different activities sprang up. The different organizations and clubs came into life. The football team began its workouts, and a number of boys from the freshman class joined it. This sudden turn of events caused some of the pupils to forget their studies, but the six weeks' tests brought them back to mind. After surmounting this unexpected difficulty, the freshmen realized that a semester in high school was not as easy as they had thought it to be. During this period of time the teachers got to know the students and soon came to know what to expect of them. The majority of the boys and girls showed their willingness to cooperate with the teachers, and very few had a different attitude.

About this time the wrestling season began. As usual, a fine team was built up through the guidance of Mr. Sawhill. A number of boys from the ninth grade volunteered for practice, and they proved to be worthy members of the team. As the letters were given out, two proud freshman boys, Frankie Cerasini and Harry Rinehart, stepped forward to receive their well-deserved prizes for the work they had done. In other activities the boys and girls of the class were well represented. Fred Rahner, one of our energetic boys, made the B-Squad of the basketball team, a great honor for a boy of his age. Progressing through the late winter and early spring months, the freshmen had a very active time: taking part in the publication of the See, helping on the staff of the Voyager, turning out to the remaining sport events, and attending lectures at the Library.

On May 29, the event of most interest to all freshmen occurred. It was the freshman party, sponsored by Miss Biddle. Almost all of the boys and girls attended this event for freshmen only. The mistress of ceremonies was Dorothy Uram, and she did a fine job of conducting the program. Different pupils demonstrated special skills in their chosen arts, and many of the students were surprised to discover what their fellow students could do in the way of entertainment. Refreshments were served, and part of the evening was spent in dancing. The music was provided by records. All in all, the party turned out to be a huge success. Still thinking about the wonderful time they had had, the freshmen turned to more serious business. The final examinations were coming, and each individual student did his utmost to come through with flying colors. All but a very few did so, but these unhappy ones plan to make up what they have not accomplished this year.

As the year closes, the class looks back on a year of joy, heartache and toil, a year which will stand high in the hearts of these students, a year which will never be equaled in the remaining years which they are to live.

Early in the school year you may have been surprised to see even some of the more sedate seniors rushing about with all the speed at their command, and with only one question for all whom they saw: "Will you buy a magazine, please?" And the figures show that all their rushing and pleading brought results. Under the management of Peggy Plummer, the two teams, captained by Betty Lou Whaley and Alice Wilson, went on to hit an all-time record.

Though both teams did remarkably well, in the end the receipts showed that the Navy team had triumphed over the Army by a small margin.

The gross receipts totaled over $1500. This was more than $300 over the goal the class had hoped to reach. The high salesman was Peggy Plummer, with Alice Wilson a close second. All the seniors did remarkably well, and they have indeed set a high mark for succeeding classes to reach.

"See" has just completed its eighth year of service to Carnegie High School—its seventh as our official newspaper. As in previous years, a hard-working, energetic staff and its able faculty adviser, Mrs. Dorothy Benson Mikus, have kept the students well informed of various school activities. Because of the paper shortage, "See" has been reduced this year in the number of pages, but bright covers and interesting articles keep up the high standards of the past.

Important announcements, accounts of sports, and school social affairs, nonsense and fashion pages, and class news are gathered each month by "See" reporters, mimeographed by the mechanical staff, and stapled together in magazine form. The issues are distributed on the first Thursday of every month.

The "See" staff thanks Mrs. Mikus for her patient and cheerful help, and all those students who have supported "See" throughout the school year.

Carnegie High School is justly proud of the impressive showing by its band. Playing at all the home football games, the band gave inspiration to the football players, in addition to creating enthusiasm among the spectators.

The community is also grateful to the band for its participation in many of the local civic affairs. Among these, an outstanding service was playing for the draftees, furnishing them with greatly-appreciated music at their departure, whether early or late. The band also played for the dedication of Carnegie's "Service Honor Roll", which took place on a Sunday afternoon in April.

Under the capable direction of Mr. Walter H. Cameron, the band has once more reflected credit on Carnegie High School.

BAND—SERVICE FOR THE COMMUNITY

A committee of five boys and girls attended the October meeting of our School Board and received permission to organize a drive for funds with which to secure new uniforms. Generous contributions were received from several industrial plants near-by and from the many other friends of the band. The community's appreciation of the band was shown by the oversubscription of the donors, which made possible the purchase of additional uniforms over the original quota. Since the majorettes' uniforms are but one to four years old, it was thought unnecessary to buy new ones at this time. Altogether seventy-seven uniforms were purchased.

The new uniforms were used for the first time at the annual Band Concert on April 28. Included in the program were selections from "Show Boat", scenes "In a Persian Market", and a novelty number—"Three Blind Mice at the Night Club Floor Show". The soloists were Mr. R. R. Sawhill, whose selections, "And Russia Is Her Name" and "The Lord's Prayer" were well received; and Dolores Ferri and Helen Mykita, who sang respectively "Falling in Love With Love" and "Long Ago and Far Away". Floyd Tavoletti played variations on "Long, Long Ago", Frank Skirpan and John Robert Schindler rendered a trumpet duet, and a trumpet quartet was presented by Bill Danks, Jewel Lee Sadowsky, Frank Skirpan, and John Robert Schindler. Mary Margaret Meyer played a marimba solo.

The band now has a corps of eight flag-twirlers, who displayed their talent at the concert. The color bearer and color guards are well drilled, having been trained by soldiers on leave.

The students and other followers of the band's activities wish the continuance of its well-deserved success.

The Camera Club has had a very successful year. We acquired twelve new members: some who have had previous experience with photography, and some who came into the club without any experience and are gaining a foundation for further work. This year the Camera Club did not take freshmen members as in previous years. Our members have taken campus, football, and basketball pictures, many of which have been submitted to the yearbook. A Camera Club pennant was designed by Neil Schneider and pennants for the club members are being made to be worn on sweaters. The club at its meetings has been given talks by Mr. Burkett on developing, printing, enlarging, and the relationship of light, aperture openings, and shutter speed. Our newest project this year is a scrapbook which by the end of the year is to be filled with examples of the members' photographic work. The darkroom schedule which was introduced last year is being used this year, and allows each member two periods a week for work in the darkroom. The club has profited by the excellent leadership of Mr. Burkett.

GIRLS' CLASS SPORTS

Under the sponsorship of Miss Ruth Mitchell the Girls' Athletic Association has again upheld its original purpose of instilling clean sportsmanship and developing grace and agility in its members. The girls were admitted this year, as always, by being members of one of the teams or by participating actively in some sport during the year.

The three sports through which an upperclassman may be admitted to the Association are basketball, volleyball, and hiking. In basketball and volleyball the teams went back to the old idea of class teams. The teams were chosen by Miss Mitchell on the merits of class work and tryouts. As soon as the teams were chosen, captains were elected by the girls, then changed at will by a popular vote of the team.

The basketball champions of the year were the juniors, and the volleyball victors were the seniors. The hikers set themselves a goal of twenty-five miles, but only a few achieved it. Teams were not chosen for this sport.

For the second year the senior class basketball team played the women faculty in the annual senior-faculty game. The seniors, won, but, as usual, the support of the crowd was enthusiastically given to the teachers.

The Association sold candy at the football games held on the home grounds. The proceeds were shared with the Athletic Association. G.A.A. made a huge success of the first skating party of the year on November 23, and of the traditional girl-ask-boy party held on May 26. As a whole this year for the G.A.A. has been successful, both financially and socially.

THE HI-Y—STRIVING TO FURTHER THEIR HIGH IDEALS

Again under the guidance of Mr. Hays is the small group of boys of the Hi-Y Club. Made up of the pick of the three upper classes, its purpose is to make worthwhile men and citizens.

The club has sponsored a service flag for the alumni of the school and has held a tea dance to raise money for this flag. Among other varied programs, the Hi-Y trimmed the school's Christmas tree, held its second annual banquet, and also a swimming party.

Already two boys, Craig Washabaugh and Arthur Nendza, have left to serve

PREPARING FOR A CAREER IN THE BUSINESS WORLD—THE COMMERCIAL CLUB

Nineteen forty-four marks the thirteenth year since the founding of the Commercial Club. This year the club is composed of thirty-six members. Membership is open to any senior following the commercial course and to commercial juniors whose grades reach an average of eighty-five or better.

Instead of following the usual custom of having guest speakers at the meetings for the benefit of students preparing themselves for the business world, the chairman of each meeting entertained with a program consisting of special talent found within the high school.

THE LITTLE TARTANS—OF THE

In late autumn, Coach Adams called out the boys for the basketball squads. Returning were three lettermen and two others of varsity experience, and by these most of the playing was done. Our hopes were high when, on the second anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor, the Little Tartans won their first game of the season. But we seemed destined to follow in the footsteps of the "Big" Tartans of Carnegie Tech, who won only one game this season. Our boys played a good, clean brand of basketball, but their attempts to win more games were all but futile.

The final records show that Carnegie won three games and lost fifteen. In total points the Little Tartans scored 486 points to their opponents' 615. High scorer with 148 points was Joseph Ratajack, and next was Peter Sekelick with 106 points. Quite a few games were lost by margins of a basket or two, and there was no overwhelming defeat. With the return of our two high scorers and at least three others with varsity experience, we can not only hope for, but expect, a better record next season.

BASKETBALL FLOOR

Playing in the preliminaries, and always hoping to play in the varsity games, are the boys on the "B" Squad. The main purpose of having the "B" Squad is to develop these boys to follow in the footsteps of the varsity, which they really did, winning two out of their fourteen games. However, much knowledge was gained, and a few boys will be ready for the varsity as a result.

As in previous years, the basketball-minded boys of each class played and fought for the mythical class championship. This year a slight change was made which saw the teams divided into two groups: one made up of the two upper classes, the other of the two lower classes. A play-off between the winners of each group then determined the class champs. This final game ended with the defeat of the sophomores by the juniors, who became one of the very few junior teams to be champions.

Again, as was the case last year, the game between the faculty and students was played by the senior girls and women of the faculty. This game provided a great deal of fun and thrills for the spectators and also a tidy sum for the Injury Fund of the Varsity C, which always sponsors this climax of the season.

THE WRESTLING TEAM—COMPLETING A SUCCESSFUL SEASON

STANDING—Chas. Davis, Coach Sawhill.
KNEELING—Fishburn, Lee.

With the return of three lettermen, and quite a few boys with varsity experience, our wrestling squad looked forward hopefully and eagerly to a good season. Many weeks of hard, regular training under the watchful eye of Coach Sawhill brought out a squad in very good condition. Our first match, which was with West View, brought to light this fact, as we defeated that team for the first time since they had been matched. For the rest of the season the victories were evenly divided between our team and its opponents. The squad also wrestled an exhibition match at the Arsenal Recreation Center, besides having a few matmen wrestle for the W.P.I.A.L. championship.

This season was very successful in the eyes of the team. Not only did they win five of their nine matches, but they drew capacity crowds. They are looking forward to a good season next year, because only two of the team are graduating.

Under the able leadership of Mr. R. C. Schumacher, the Varsity "C" Club had another wonderful year. The purpose of the club is to enable the members to bring about closer relations and a finer spirit of fellowship among the students of the high school. Because of the splendid aims and high ideals it represents, this organization has become an essential part of Carnegie High School's athletic program. Only when one has earned a letter in interscholastic competition is he eligible for admission.

The total number of members was twenty-six this year. Many successful events were held, among which were the Skating Party and the Women Faculty-Senior Girls Basketball Game. The proceeds from these events were divided between the club and the Varsity "C" Injury Fund, which is now a great asset to the club and school.

Those who earned letters in football were: Brown, M. Cross, T. Cross, Czaplicki, Hiles, Charles Davis, Clyde Davis, Morgan, Tavoletti, Fishburn, Dombrosky, Skirpan, Sandrus, Swentosky, Keisling, Wodzinski, and Kaminsky, Manager.

The basketball lettermen were: Sekelick, T. Cross, Sgro, Czaplicki, Swentosky, Sandrus, Ratajack, Gibbs, Ptasek, and Shank.

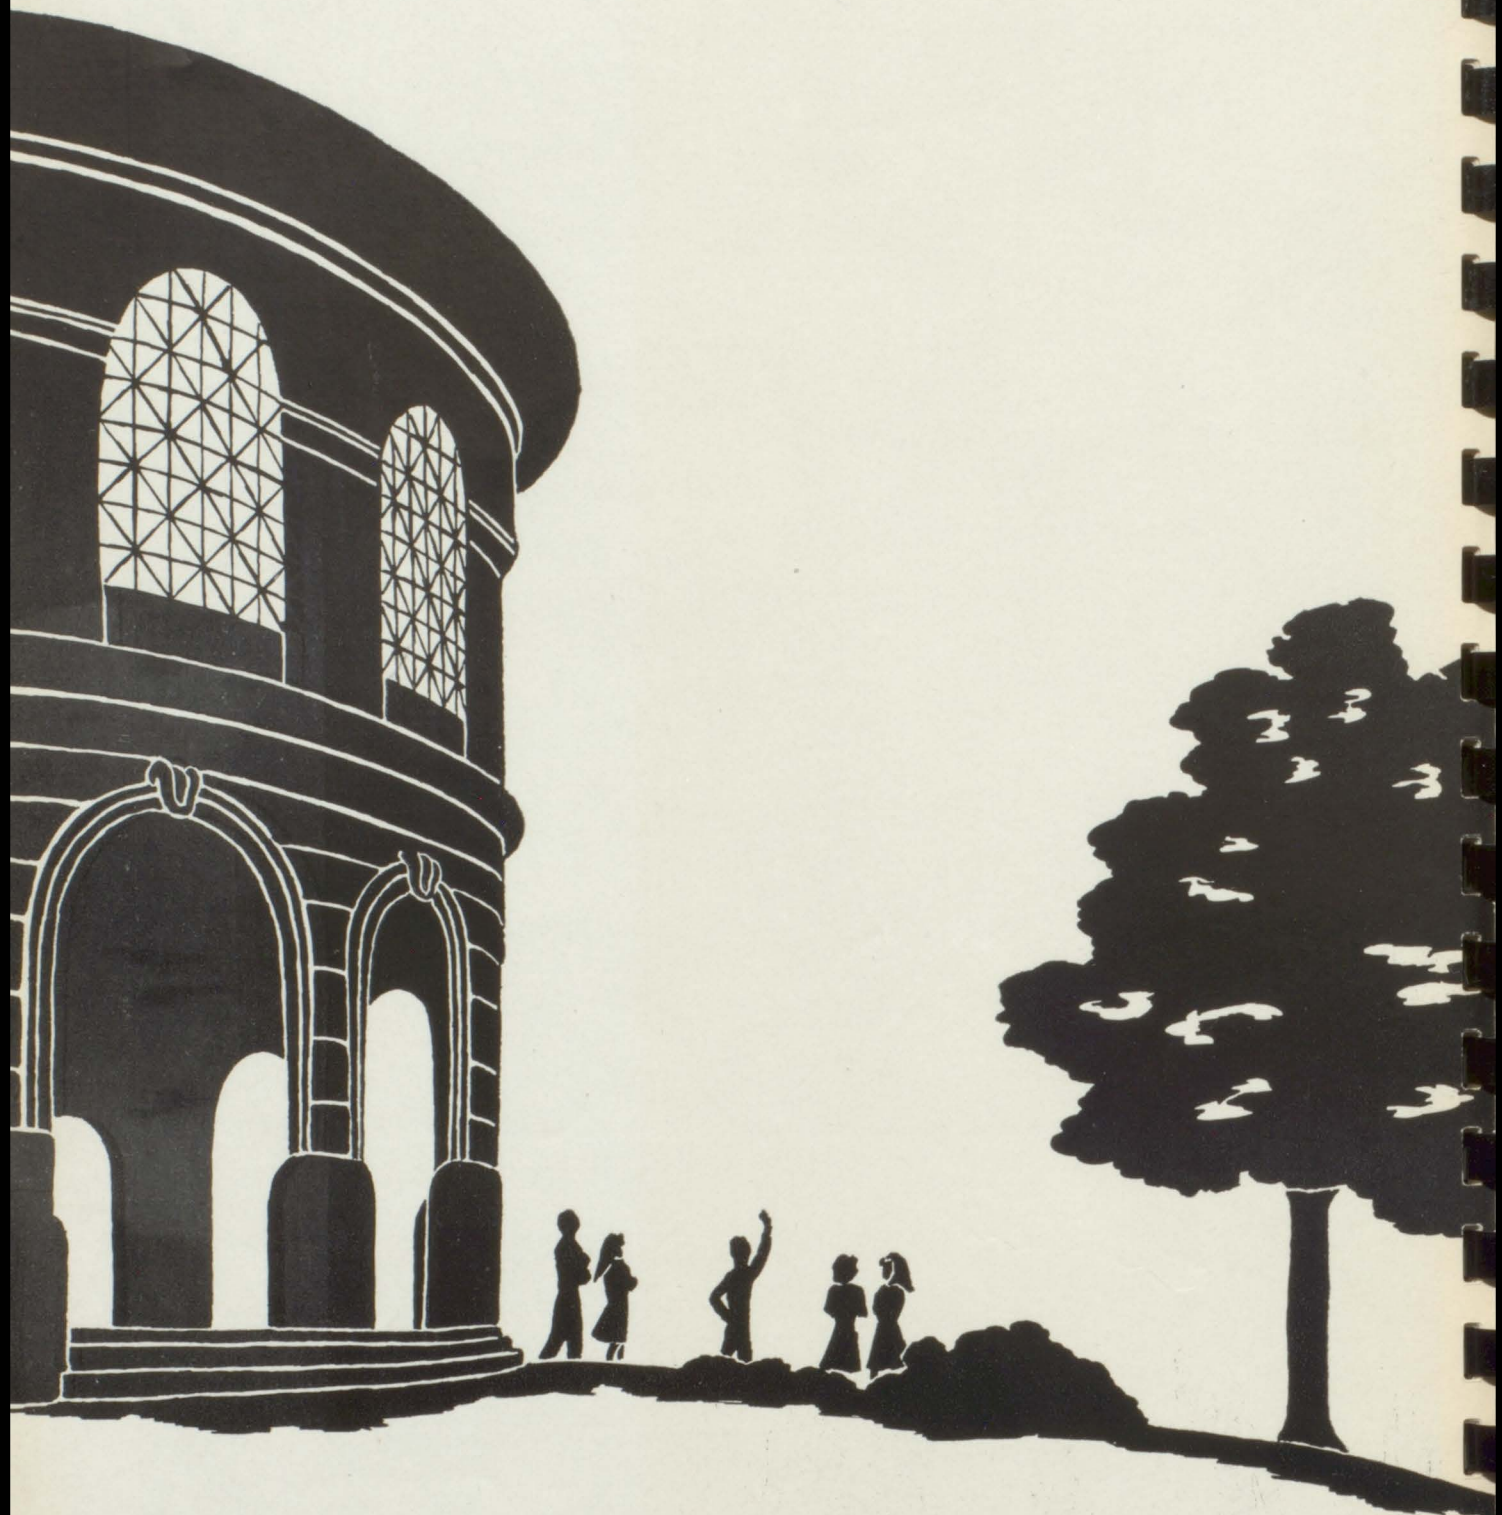

The wrestling lettermen were: Cerasini, Rinehart, Nowacki, Sentner, Perlman, Uram, Clyde Davis, and Wodzinski.

SENIOR PLAY—THE EFFICIENT COMMITTEES

On the evening of March 24, 1944, the Senior Class in cooperation with the Dramateur Club presented the annual class play in the Carnegie Library Auditorium.

The play, "Johnny On The Spot", a comedy in three acts, written by Anne Coulter Martens, was under the supervision of Miss Betty Brandon. Miss Dorothy Hepler acted as critic; and Irma Pachel, a member of the Senior Class and of Dramateur Club, served as student coach.

The plot of the play centered around a sailor who, home on leave, found that he was the hero of his family and friends, since Sherry Lee, a radio singer and dream sweetheart of Johnny's, had suggested that he had said, "Keep the Guns a-Poppin'," the title of a new song. Sherry begs Johnny to be silent until the song is presented that evening, but at the bond rally in the evening Johnny is asked to make a speech, and he feels that he must tell the truth—that he is not a hero but the best pie-baker on his ship. He and Sherry find that they were made for each other.

Student Coach Irma Pachel with the prompters Joan McLean and Mary Lois Love.

Franc, Griffith, Helfgott, Stevens, Farinella, Codispoti, Nixon.

The Dramateur Club has a limited membership of fifty students: twenty seniors, fifteen juniors, and fifteen sophomores, all of whom were taken into the club because of their interest in the many phases of dramatics.

Following some of the business meetings short plays were presented for the entertainment of the members. Some of these were also reenacted for community organizations. Working with these plays offered the members valuable experience in directing, theatrical make-up, and the securing of suitable properties, as well as acting—each a necessity in acquiring the proper effect. Among the outstanding meetings during the year was the initiation of new members on February 23. On March 8 a gala evening of dancing and games was attended by the members and their guests at the Harding gym.

The main project during the year was sponsoring the senior play, "Johnny On The Spot." Although the cast was limited to members of the senior class, the duties of the committees were performed by Dramateur Club members.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY—FIRST IN CHARACTER, SERVICE, AND LEADERSHIP

For its eighth year the Carnegie Chapter of the National Honor Society has honored worthy students for their scholarship, leadership, character, and service by membership in this group. The emblem of this organization, the Torch, lights the way for students eager to further their ideals and ambitions. Because only a small percentage of the junior and senior classes is admitted, membership in the National Honor Society is eagerly sought and highly valued.

Besides the usual formal induction of new members in June, another affair has been added to the activities of the group for May. For the second time eighth grade honor students were invited to attend a tea given in the Assembly Room of Carnegie High School. The purpose of the invitation was to give these students just entering high school life, encouragement to maintain their scholarship in new surroundings.

WITH MUSIC AND HARMONY

Music is a valuable addition to any school, and Carnegie High School is justly proud of its excellent choral groups. Under the direction of Miss Fulton, these students, after regular practices during the term, present an enjoyable program in the annual Spring Concert.

The A Cappella Choir has completed the third year since its organization in the autumn of 1941. This year there are in this group forty-seven musically-minded sophomores, juniors, and seniors. For the most part they sing without accompaniment, hence the name A Cappella. Meeting semi-weekly on Monday and Wednesday afternoons, the Choir practiced diligently, and on April 14, they offered a number of selections without which the Spring Concert would not have been complete.

Sixty girls selected from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes make up the G Clef Club, which meets every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon. This group enjoys the preparation of three-part selections. At the concert, "Kye Song of Saint Bride," "On a Green Hill," "Chinese Lullaby," and "Chimes of Spring" showed the results of their practice.

The Glee Club is comprised of seventeen boys chosen from the three upper classes. For many of the boys, this is their first experience with four-part male chorus work. At the Band Concert they sang several numbers, with instrumental accompaniment directed by Mr. Cameron.

Nine girls from the junior and senior classes make up the Triple Trio which meets twice weekly. These vocally-talented girls entertained at various school and community affairs. In their formal gowns they presented a beautiful picture as they sang their three-part selections on the stage of the Library Auditorium.

The Ensemble is composed of some of the members of the regular band who enjoy classical music and have the skill to play it. This group presents several numbers at the annual Spring Concert. Always thoroughly enjoyed, more classical arrangements are impossible because of the many musical organizations taking part in the concert. Among the numbers given this year were selections from "The Merry Widow," and the "Russian Sailor Dance."

The Stage or Swing Band is a group of talented musicians, chosen from the Marching Band, who have the ability to swing music. This spring, as in the past, the second half of the Band Concert was given by this group. Floyd Tavoletti, student leader, directed the first number on the program. With Charles Davis as Master of Ceremonies, the program continued. Included in the acts were vocal solos and an acrobatic dance by Lorraine Weissert; and talented little Billie Hawkins gave the performance of an experienced drummer. The Swing Band closed with a rumba, "Take It Easy."

MEMORIES OF SENIORS

SEPTEMBER

At last we've reached the top—Seniors, and the shining example of the underclassmen (so they say!) Football season under way.

The Army and Navy put the Magazine Campaign over the goal—topping all sales records.

Student-Faculty Activities Committee organized.

OCTOBER

Seniors help issue Ration Book 4, while underclassmen take a vacation.

Voyager staff takes on new recruits.

Class officers elected to lead the way.

The FALL FROLIC attracts a stag line! Huge proceeds to go toward new band uniforms.

NOVEMBER

A/C test. All C.H.S. contestants pass with flying colors. (Who said we didn't have brains?)

All school clubs get a fresh start with numerous activities.

G.A.A. sponsors Skating Party; attracts a large crowd.

Football banquet.

DECEMBER

Basketball season gets off to a good start.

Sylvester Parisi wins a War Bond while representing the class in a history contest.

Christmas decorations array the gym for the Senior Dance. What a super way to start the holiday season!

JANUARY

Our chance to show our acting ability. Senior Play tryouts.

Midyears—too late to study now!

Mr. Rosser takes senior photographs. (Is my hair all right? Is my tie straight?)

By this time we've decided to break those New Year resolutions. (They weren't any good, you know.)

FEBRUARY

Voyager Campaign—business doing fine.

The Carnegie Rotary Club sponsors a series of lectures for juniors and seniors.

Leap year—careful, boys. Some girls are desperate, due to the man shortage,

MARCH

Faculty-Seniors basketball game. Senior girls outplay women faculty. (But give them credit; they played hard.)

The Carnegie Library is packed with a well-satisfied audience who have come to see "Johnny on the Spot", an immense hit.

APRIL

Early Saturday morning, Civic Club test for those with a high I.Q. (Tough, they said.)

Choral clubs present the annual Spring Concert.

Another tea dance—this one is for the Hi-Y Service Flag.

First showing of new band uniforms set off by a successful program at the Band Concert.

MAY

Warm days are here again and no one feels like studying. (As though anyone ever did.)

Junior Promenaders go formal.

Seniors dress like "kiddies." Something we've looked forward to for four long years.

It's the boys' turn to be the girls' guests. Yes, it's the G.A.A. dance.

Senior finals. We really studied this time.

JUNE

Sunday evening, and all the seniors are assembled together for a very impressive Baccalaureate Service.

Senior Banquet. Gosh, aren't we important?

Commencement—sober faces and tear-filled eyes, speeches—the end of four happy years. (We really appreciate them now.)

Goodbye, all—Don't forget us.

FRANCIS ALESSI—Superman.

MARY ANANEVICH—A friend in need is a friend indeed.

RUTH BAJORAS—One beautiful blonde that isn't dizzy.

STASSA BARBER—Eyes you dream of.

OZRO BARCLAY—What does he call his car—Methuselah?

MARGUERITE BARUM—Crafton is her home, but Carnegie is her first love.

GLORIA BASSANO—A movie-mad maid with a mischievous twinkle in her eye.

MARY CATHERINE BIGLEMAN—A friendly smile for everyone, and a wide circle of friends.

EVELYN BOEHMER—More loyal love was never found.

JEAN BOSSOLONO—Circum urbem strepit. Latin, we hope.

JEAN CALDWELL—As graceful and willowy as a daffodil.

CARMELA CALIGUIRE—Who will ever forget those comic postcards?

FRED CASCIOTO—That laugh is sure to drive us crazy.

FRANK CATANESE—P.I.A.'s promise.

ELVIRA CERASINI—A seeker of intellect, always reading.

JAMES CHAPFEL—"Johnny on the Spot" gets out of trouble with his wit.

BETTY CHIDLOW—Always ready with a solution to our problems.

ERMINIA CINCOLA—That gurgling laugh carries everyone along in the tide.

TOM CROSS—A thrill player on the basketball floor.

ALEX CZAPLICKI—An athlete that the girls swoon over.

JEAN DANIELS—The "too too beguiling" part of "Bubbles" was made for her.

CHARLES DAVIS—He captivated all the men in his blonde wig on Kid Day.

CLYDE DAVIS—What will our football team do without their star, "Bus"?

DOROTHY DRISCOLL—Her sweet, low voice belies her soaring mirth.

JOAN DUNEVICH—A new joke every morning.

REGINA DUNLAP—The appealing bashful type.

NORINE EGBERT—That cute Ingrid Bergman hairdo.

BETTY EGRI—Betty's glowing face amidst swirling flags.

DOLORES FERRI—The perfected art of "putting a song across" with her lovely voice.

BETTY FURMAN—Bob this, and Bob that.

ALBERT GERTZ—"Apollo"—'nuff said.

JAMES GIBBS—That nonchalant laziness is admired by many.

VIRGINIA GLASSER—"Got any change in your pocket, Dad?"

JOE GRONSKY—Joe's red hair is a symptom of mischief.

ELEANOR HIGLEY—Ignores all other boys since Jack took over.

SHIRLEY HIGLEY—Artistic, with a peppery personality.

JOHN HILES—"Long John" has ambled easily through high school.

BETTY HODDER—We'd like to see more of you, stranger.

RICHARD JOHNSON—An empty seat reminds us of an absent classmate.

DOROTHY KARAS—"Eagle's" little chicken.

ANTHONY Klapach—Careful! Hot temper.

JULIA KRASOUSKY—Her future assured as a "government girl."

FANNIE KRESUMKO—Fannie got her "mannie."

JOHN LENFESTY—"Wayne the Wolf" lives up to his name.

BEATRICE LEWIS—"Won't you go with me to Urichsville, Ohio?"

MARY LOIS LOVE—"Love's labor lost?" Not in the least.

HELEN MATWICZYK — All that seriousness wrapped up in a small package.

JOAN McLEAN—That far-away look in her eyes.

ELIZABETH MITKOSKI—An able leader in athletics.

HELEN MYKITA—A close rival of Dinah Shore.

HELEN NOVAK—The personification of vitality.

MARY LOU OLIVER—Popular with real "he-men."

MARY OSTOFFIE—Rivals the violet in modesty.

IRMA PACHEL—Seems to be headed toward a successful theatrical career.

SYLVESTER PARISI—Mischief-making a la Sylvester.

DON PERLMAN—Our ideal "Danny" reminds us of perpetual motion.

ELEANORE PERSINSKI—Her piercing giggle is death to pessimism.

DOROTHY PICHI—Never lacks poise in any circumstance.

PEGGY PLUMMER—Destined to become a great photographer through her Camera Club work.

PAUL POPICHAK—Like knife and fork are Paul and pep.

CATHERINE PREITE—Her shy friendliness has charm.

SARAH PREVITE—Oh, those "come-hither" glances.

SHIRLEY RAMSEY—Graceful as a deer, and a dear she is.

HELEN RYBACK—Blonde hair, blue eyes, peachy complexion, mmmmm—what a color scheme.

ROSE MARY SANSONO—Can always think of one more thing to say.

ELIZABETH SCHAFER—Our Betsy never frets.

HARRY SCHUTTE—Our scientific whiz always seems to be experimenting with explosives.

CARMEN SGRO—Sleek hair and flashing eyes in the midst of confusion.

LENA SGRO—An eight-foot energy in a five-foot frame.

MARIE SGRO—A lady's manner and a girlish heart.

ROCCO SGRO—Day and night it's Alex and Rocky.

MARY SYLVESTRI—Her deep convictions are rarely altered.

IDA MAE SIRIANNI—Has ten fingers of sweetness and harmony.

MARIE SPELAR—She has an eye for becoming styles.

DOROTHY STAAB—Artiste extraordinaire.

NICK STRELLA—The smile with a secret.

ANNA MAE SWENTKOWSKY—Her sparkling eyes are always dancing in fun.

MILDRED SWENTOSKY—Her classic immobility.

FLOYD TAVOLETTI—Our swing addict leaves us for P.I.A.

VIRGINIA TAVOLETTI—Spring Byington may have to relinquish her fans to "Melinda."

JEANNE TELEP—Our natural glamour girl.

ISABELLE TELTHORSTER—Capable leader of room 9.

JOSEPHINE TIBERIO—Miss Hepler's "Josie" who likes school so much.

LEONARD TIMCZYK—A quick mind hides behind that serious exterior.

IRENE TREAT—Our "popularity plus" girl.

COLLETTE URICH—If she is a representative of France, then to France we must go.

CRAIG WASHABAUGH—Making our man-power shortage worse by going to Pitt.

BETTY LOU WHALEY—The best of our future secretaries.

MIKE WENGRYN—Soon to represent room 9 in the service of his country.

ALICE WILSON—"Got your chem done, 'Bus'?"

MARY BURK YAHRES—Last but not least, our one and only "Sherry."

Carnegie High's Representatives

When we began our high school careers, we had no thought that many of our fellow students and even some of our own classmates would very soon be in the armed services. This, we hope, is a complete list of those who have graduated within the years of our school life. We know that many others who were in school with us have gone, but our records are incomplete. We wish to honor here those omitted, as well as those named.

PATRICIA GRANDINETTA

Born May 11, 1927 Died September 10, 1943

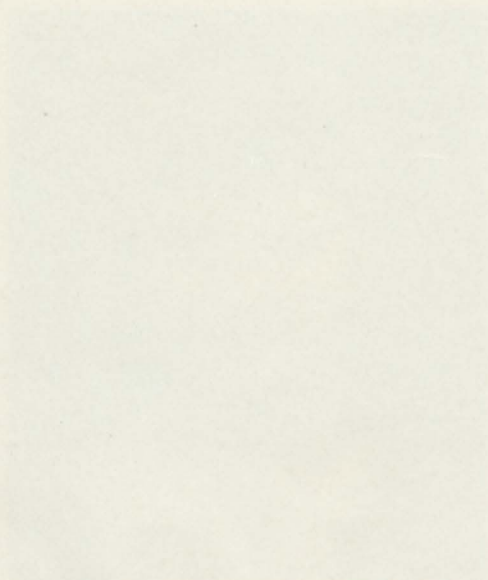

One does not expect freshmen to make much impression upon the school, but the many friends whom Pat made during the one year and four days that she spent in Carnegie High School show the true merit of her character and the brightness of her personality.

Her sudden death came as a blow to a great many of us.
