Ex Libris

THIS fountain, which once stood on Main Street at Broadway and Beechwood, was erected by the W.C.T.U. in 1909. Its original purpose was the refreshment of horses and dogs, but in its latter years it served mainly to dampen the spirits of freshmen, forcibly dunked by the sophomores. It also was a popular meeting place for sweethearts. It was torn down in 1934.

Fifty Years of Progress

*I*N 1895 the boroughs of Chartiers and Mansfield merged to form the first and second wards of the new town of Carnegie, thus named in order to get a free library from Andrew Carnegie, the great steel industrialist. Those were the good old days when it was firmly believed that red flannel underwear was warmer than underwear of any other color.

*A*daring step was taken by the new town when it created a high school, which made its humble beginning in September of 1896 in rooms rented from the W.C.T.U. On that first day of school there were seventy-five students, who naturally were all freshmen, ranging in age from fifteen to twenty years. In the course of the year Professor George, who had done all the teaching at the beginning, increased his staff one hundred per cent by adding Miss Florence P. Davis, an English teacher, to the faculty. It must have been a tough year for everybody, because all but eighteen flunked out at the end of the year, and a third teacher had to be hired for the second year, Miss Margaret McLarn.

*I*T was a three-year course in those days of button shoes and bow ties, and you had your choice of three courses: normal (for those who wanted to be teachers in country schools), classical (which led to college entrance), and scientific. In the year 1899, while we were having a confused skirmish with Spain, a building was erected for the high school, containing at that time only that part of the school in front of the present back hall, or the rooms now known as 2 (Mrs. Mikus), 8 (Miss Fry), 10 (study hall, which was divided into more than one room), 11 (Mrs. Nolf), and 17 (Miss Dickenson). The graduating class, a sturdy little band of twelve survivors, enjoyed the new building for one short month before they were graduated. Incidentally, the school year used to be ten long months.

*I*N 1914 the last two changes were made in the high school. The addition was built, containing rooms 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, and the gymnasium. The second change was to extend the course to four years. Since then we have grown crusty with tradition and grime.

WE dedicate this book to all the people who, in the fullness of their first youth, have ever passed through the doors of Carnegie High School in the fifty years of its existence:

TO the seventy-five who entered the first freshman class, and to the eighteen who survived to pass into the sophomore year—

TO the prim misses of 1896 in their full-sleeved blouses and ankle-length skirts over button shoes (corsets, too), and to the Sloppy Joes of today in their bobby socks and loafers, their outsize sweaters and their shirts with the tails out—

TO the boys who went to war in 1898 and 1917 and 1941—

TO all who passed some time, troubled and bittersweet, in the fateful days that saw the first horseless carriage, the first airplane, the first flickering movies, the crystal sets, and the first ominous appearance of the atom bomb.

Our Superintendent

Norman L. Glasser

NINETEEN years have elapsed since Mr. Norman L. Glasser first became superintendent of the Carnegie Public Schools, and these same schools have been the ones that have benefited most from the association. Mr. Glasser, although often busy with his civic as well as his school duties, has always had time to listen to students' problems and to give advice in a quiet, fatherly manner. He never passes without a spoken greeting, and it is impossible for his quiet humor to go unnoticed.

We of the class of '46 hope that he will remember us as long and as clearly as we shall remember him.

Miss Eva Blacka, who was here for four years as Mr. Glasser's secretary, left in February to be married to Mr. Ben C. Cook of Irwin. Her place has been taken by Miss Betty Jane Shiveley of New Brighton, a recent graduate of Indiana State Teachers College.

Mrs. Musico

Mrs. Estelle Musico was Mr. Lee's secretary for the first semester. Her place was taken by Mrs. Dinkins, of whom we never got a picture. Ill health forced Mrs. Dinkins to resign at the end of February, and her place is still unfilled as the VOYAGER goes to press.

*V*ERY competently staffed by our principal, Mr. Lee, and his secretary, whenever there is a secretary, the office (which is known by various other names to wayward students) is the busiest, if not the most popular, spot in the high school. A substantial majority of the students who complete high school will remember the office in more detail than any other room of their school days; for school would seem very dull indeed without the weekly excursions into the sanctity of Mr. Lee's rumpus room. It is true of course that although all of the people who populate the office are not there to use the reference books, a few scholarly members of our house of learning do occasionally drop in to bolster their store of knowledge. No one envies Mr. Lee his job, however, for it is a thankless one.

The Board of Education

Seated: Stockum, Wallis, Grove, McFarland
Standing: Ritter, Garner, Kearton, Nixon, Glasser

ON the first Monday of every month the school board of Carnegie meets in Mr. Glasser's office to discuss, in a haze of blue smoke, the matters that concern the public schools of Carnegie. The board makes any rules necessary, and these rules are put into effect by Mr. Glasser as superintendent. The members are elected for a period of six years each, two new members being elected every two years. The two new members upon the board are Mr. Garner and Mr. Ritter. The oldest member in point of service is the secretary, Mr. McFarland. Another member with long, although not continuous, service is Mr. Kearton.

Mr. Grove is president of the board; Mr. Wallis is vice president; Mr. McFarland, secretary; and Mr. Nixon, solicitor. The remaining members of the board are Mr. Stockum, Mr. Ritter, Mr. Garner, Mr. Kearton, and Mr. Glasser, superintendent.

Student-Faculty Committee

To gain membership in this organization one must be a representative of a student organization, appointed by that same organization; a member of the faculty who is sponsor of a student activity; a faculty sponsor of one of the classes; or a class president. The business of the Student-Faculty Committee ranges from the Crafton-Carnegie question to the price of the orchestra for the Junior Prom. The committee also plans for the organization of the freshmen class and the possibility of interclass assemblies. The Junior Town Meeting of the Air was considered by the committee, and its course was completed with much praise from fellow students. Many questions entered into by the meetings have been heatedly debated and have resulted in the betterment of our social life.

This organization meets once every month to discuss the various intramural problems. Miss Brandon is president, and Betty Langer is secretary. Miss Nesbitt also has an important position as calendar chairman; that is, arranging the dates for social events such as dances and roller skating parties.

On the whole the idea of having a Student-Faculty Committee is good because a student may voice his opinion. In years to come we hope to hear that the Student-Faculty Committee has a meeting with an attendance of one hundred per cent.

WORK, work, and yet more work are the only words that can describe the labor involved in producing our yearbook, the VOYAGER. We are now going to take you behind the scenes and let you know all our trials and tribulations. By the time we get through you will wonder how we got the annual out at all.

The first thing of course is to take pictures. You musn't mind if Mr. Rosser runs out of film, or other schools conflict with our shooting schedule—it's all in the game. Then we have to make sure that everyone who is supposed be in the picture is there before the photographer snaps the picture. If anyone isn't there, then we have to find and drag him down to have his face immortalized for posterity. Here we don't have too many difficulties—just a few measly items like flunking seniors; students who decide to quit and then don't; students who move in pictures making a retake necessary—nothing really serious, you know.

When the glossies are sent to us from Mr. Rosser, we are occasionally dismayed to find that in a few pictures shadows make the people look like Mexicans (this demands a retouch job); and in another there is too much light, which means another retake.

STOP pulling your hair! We're only a third of the way through. The next step is to mount the pictures on stiff white board for the engraver. This would seem to be a simple pasting job, but that isn't all there is to it. Pictures are generally printed in the book in a smaller size than that of the finished photograph. To calculate the measurements of the reduced picture is one of the special headaches of the picture editor. And then there are the panels that have to be taken apart because somebody was forgotten; and the mistakes in mounting that couldn't be corrected and so they will stand for all eternity—or a close facsimile of it.

After this is completed, the staff writers are supposed to have their work in on time so that the typists can get it ready for the printer, and spelling is not one of the minor worries. How do you spell WYLIE? W-i-l-e-y? W-e-i-l-e-y? W-i-l-y? Finally, when all this is finished, your dummy is ready for the printer.

We certainly don't expect this book to be perfect or win a prize, but we do hope you will like this edition of the VOYAGER, for heaven only knows, it took enough sweat and tears to get it out.

SENIORS

FRESHMEN

HERE is a certain sadness about the end of everything, even of school days. When next September rolls around, the seniors of today will have an uneasy feeling. The doors of the schoolhouse no longer open for them; they are on the outside looking in. The smell of oiled floors and chalk dust, the drone of grammar classes, the battered books, the welcome jangle of the 3:45 bell have become a memory. That this memory may not be completely lost, we here preserve in words and photographs some of the events of life at Carnegie High School.

Glasses

The Class of '46

*Y*ES, we were freshmen once upon a time, four years ago to be exact, and we were proud to be in high school. We had a tough time finding the different room numbers, but we made it. Our most thrilling activity that first year of high school was the Freshman Party, in which Jack Griffith and Chris Keisling tied as Mr. Freshman. As the result of tossing a coin, one wore the golden crown for half the party, while the other strutted about with a blue band inscribed with the silver letters, MR. FRESHMAN. Thus ended our first trial at high school life.

On we went to the sophomore year, with Miss West and Miss Coogle as our report teachers. Miss West's room, Room 13, had a tea party, and Steve Telep lent his voice to the gala event. The next big activity this year was the Sophomore Hop. This dance netted the sophomore class some sixty or seventy dollars.

The junior year came, with hard work on our heels but due to Mrs. Mikus's disciplinary methods, we survived. We also had much fun this year, led on by one Graham "Buzz" Austin, the Terror of Room 2, whose habit of strewing large bills around finally brought him to grief.

Then came the finale of our high school career, the senior year. It was full of activity—as a matter of fact, too much, for we had three casualties: John Robert Double with two broken arms at one time, Rosemarie Farinella with a broken ankle, and Afton Sembrat with a broken elbow. All these woes were survived, and on came the senior play with Don Yourd and Millie Goodman starred as a steady couple, which they are in reality. Alas, the time ran out, and here we are about to graduate, with tear-filled eyes, knowing that the happy days of high school will never come to us again.

Not everyone who started with us back in the fall of 1942 remained with us to graduate, but the saddest loss is that of Leo Michalec, who, stricken with leukemia, died last August. There will always be a vacant place in our memories for him.

ANGELINE J. ADAMS

Commercial Club, Treasurer 4; SEE Staff 4; Dance Committee 2; Captain, Magazine Campaign 4; National Honor Society 4.

Black wavy hair sets off dancing eyes and a creamy complexion. Angie would make a good Lady in Red, if she were not so shy. Angie not only comes first in the class alphabetically, but her grades put her right up on top, too.

DONALD AHEARN

Varsity "C" 4, Treasurer 4; Football 4, Letter 4; Wrestling 4.

Dink is one of our quieter members (except when he and Brookley get together in geometry). A football letterman and a wrestler. No active romance, but we suspect he is carrying the torch. Sometimes known as Brian, especially to Mr. Sawhill.

FIDELIS RICARDO BAUX

Cheerleader 2, 3, 4, Head Cheerleader 4; GAA 1, 2, 3, 4, Dance Committees 2, 3, 4; Volleyball 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 1, 2, 4; Dramateur Club 2, 3, 4, Secretary 3; Dance Committee 2, 3, 4; Choir 2, 3, 4; Triple Trio 3, 4; Frosh Party Chairman 1; Band Concert Solo 3; Canteen 3, 4; Student-Faculty 4; National Honor Society 3, 4; Secretary 3; Senior Play Committee 2, 3, 4; Voyager Staff 3, 4, Editor 4; Senior Ring Committee.

You name the activity and we'll show you Fidelis right in the middle of it, singing, dancing, acting, cheering, editing, and so on far into the night. How she ever fits Red into her schedule is one of the minor mysteries but this is Miss Personality Plus.

ERNEST BOSSOLONO, JR.

Varsity "C" 4; Basketball 3, 4, Letter 4; Wrestling 1.

Gabby certainly lives up to his nickname in and out of school. He has worn his footprints on the sidewalk in front of Bell's Drug Store. Ernie is the spark of the basketball team. Wears a quarter-inch haircut.

GAA 1, 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4; Dance Committee 2; GAA Dance Committee 2; SEE Staff Typist 4.

Our little Sleepy-Time Gal with dark eyes and tawny skin, combing her hair and dreaming all day; but dreaming of what she won't say. When she really wakes up, she goes to town—typing for the SEE.

MARY LOUISE CHIRUMBOLE

G Clef 4; GAA 1, 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4.

Not sisters, folks, but cousins. Mary Lou has dark hair, too, and white blouses give her a frosty, angelic look. Mary Lou is the quiet, energetic type. She likes history and deplores wasting time.

LEONA CHOLEWINSKI

G Clef 2; A Cappella 3, 4; GAA 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4; Hiking; Entertainment Committee, Commercial Club, 4.

Lee is one of our ambitious secretaries-to-be. She likes to sing and to play the piano. She's small and cute and has dancing eyes. She makes a trio with the two Chirumbos.

WILLIAM DANKS

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Ensemble 2, 3, 4; Class Basketball 1, 2.

Every morning when Bill gets to school, he has one question, "Do you have your night work done?" He has a weakness for women and shows, and walks only when he can't ride in Jack Streitman's car.

LOIS JEAN DAY

Choir 2, 3, 4; Triple Trio 4; Double Mixed Quartet 3; G.A.A. 3, 4; VOYAGER Salesman 2.

The blonde bombshell, her progress through school is marked by a trail of lost articles. She shares the honors with Romayne Smith as the deadpan members of the Triple Trio, but don't let that sleepy air fool you. Has a weakness for the navy. One of the gang at Bell's.

EVALINA PHYLLIS DICELLO

G Clef 3; Choir 4; GAA 1, 2, 3, 4, Dance Committee 4; Magazine Campaign 4.

Evie is definitely attractive, one of those brunettes who can wear bright, bright lipstick, high heels, and black. For all her sophistication, she really lets her hair down when it comes to cutting a rug!

HELEN DOAK

G Clef 2; Choir 3; GAA 2, 3, 4.

Life for Helen is really exciting, just one crush after another—people, professions, and popcorn. Red is her favorite color, and it certainly does bring out her dark hair and eyes. Where Helen is, there you will find Janie.

JOHN ROBERT DOUBLE

Choir 4; Glee Club 3; Junior Prom 3; Flag Twirler 1, 2, 3; Drum Major 3.

John Robert is the boy you saw around school this fall with both arms done up in slings, the result of a fall over a hill. He has beautiful curly hair, and he is forever eating. For the last three years he has been one of our flag twirlers, when he has arms to twirl.

ELEANOR DOWIDCHUK

Tri-Hi-Y 4; Volleyball Team 4; National Honor Society 4; Secretary 4.

Maybe Eleanor doesn't think it's fun to be stranded in Arizona in the middle of January, but that is our idea of luck, brother, luck! When you're bright like Eleanor, a month or so in the sunshine doesn't do much damage to your grades. A chemistry whiz.

FERN DREXLER

G Clef 4; GAA 3, 4; Dramateur Club 4; Dance Committee 4; Senior Dance Committee 4.

Robinson's loss was Carnegie's gain, and do the boys know it! Not very big but highly decorative, with a mischievous glint in her eyes. No mechanical genius, she drives with her brakes on. In many activities in spite of her late start.

ROSEMARIE FARINELLA

Basketball 1, 2, 3; Volleyball 1, 2, 3, 4; G Clef 2, 3; A Cappella 4; GAA 1, 2, 3, 4; Tri-Hi-Y 4; Freshman Party.

Shorty has her own private art gallery in which she has pictures of almost everyone she knows. Her ambition is to be a nurse, and one thing sure is that she will be able to teach people how to walk on crutches.

VIRGINIA FERRARI

Commercial Club 4; GAA 1, 2, 3, 4; Freshman Team.

Virginia is one of our country folk—comes to school by bus. She spends her lunch hour kidding Mr. Martin. She's not very big, but you know she's around.

JANE FIRTH

G Clef 3, 4; GAA 1, 2, 3, 4; Camera Club 3, 4, Treasurer 4; Senior Dance Committee; Sophomore Dance Committee; Student-Faculty 2; Chairman, Magazine Campaign 4; Senior Play.

Jane is the cutest, craziest little girl who is forever getting into trouble, such as ad libbing her Latin translations. She confesses to talking too much, but nevertheless everyone likes her very much.

DOLORES FRANC

A Cappella 2, 3, 4; Triple Trio 3, 4; GAA 1, 2, 3, 4, Treasurer 4; Dramateur Club 2, 3, 4, Vice President 4; Volleyball 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Senior Play; Junior Prom Committee.

Dolle (rhyme it with Bette) is the flaxen-haired girl with blue eyes and the flashing smile, everyone's idea of what a high school girl should be. Reveals a sense of humor in admitting that her humor is corny. Belongs to just about everything.

DORIS GALE

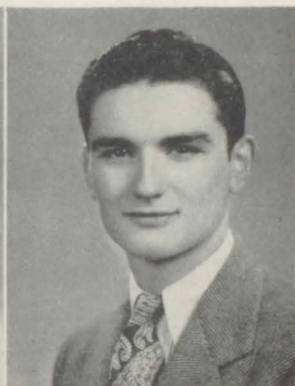

GAA 3, 4; Tri-Hi-Y 4; Volleyball Team 4.

They don't call her Curly Top, but they should—or maybe Bright Eyes, but they don't. Doris has all the makings of a glamour girl, but she prefers sports.

DORIS STONE GALLUP

G Clef 3; Swing Band 3; Choir 4; GAA 3, 4; Tri-Hi-Y 4; Social Committee, Tri-Hi-Y 4.

Dorie has a devastating effect on freshman boys. She's an ardent sportswoman and is one of the Means' gang. A cute pair, Eleanor and Dorie make up the tall and short of it.

MILDRED GOODMAN

GAA 2, 3, 4; Dramateur Club 4; Volleyball Team 4; Basketball Team 4; Dance Committees 2, 4; Junior Prom 4; GAA Dance Committee 4; Scott Township 1; VOYAGER Typist 4.

Mildred is a pretty little girl with black hair and blue eyes who is on all the dance committees. Her pet peeve is untidy people; maybe that is because she likes to design clothes and is herself a very smart dresser.

JACK GRIFFITH

A Cappella 4; Glee Club 4; Hi-Y 2, 3, 4, Treasurer 4; Dramateur Club 2, 3, 4; Varsity "C" 4; Wrestling 1; Basketball Manager 2, 3, 4, Letter 4; Hi-Y Basketball 3, 4; Class Basketball 2; Senior Play Lighting Committee 2, 3; Band Concert Lighting Committee 2, 3; Junior Prom 3; Senior Dance 4; Senior Play; Democracy Test 4.

Tall, dark and handsome, hubba, hubba! Miss Hepler's darling when it comes to maps. Has disclosed unexpected talent in writing. Manages to get into a lot of things.

DORIS HAVER

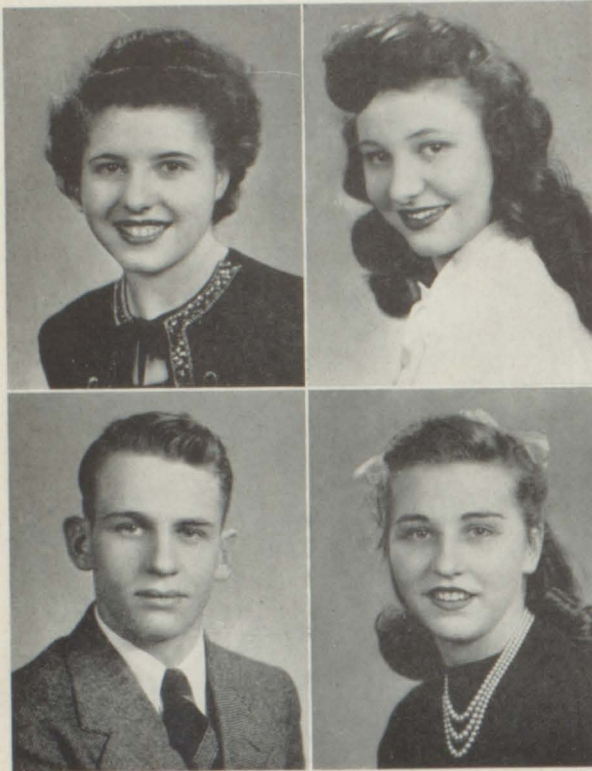

Band 4, Treasurer 4; Dramateur Club 4; Tri-Hi-Y 4, Vice President 4; Senior Dance 4; Magazine Campaign 4; Cumberland High 1, 2; Crafton High 3.

To look at Doris's activity list, you would never suspect that this is her first year at Carnegie—officer in two clubs, member of two dance committees. All of this adds up to popularity in a big way.

JOHN HINDMAN

Choir 4; Hi-Y 3, 4, County Representative 4; Athletic Association 4, Treasurer 4; Class Basketball 2; Wrestling 3; Class Vice President 3; President 3; Student-Faculty; VOYAGER Staff 3; SEE Staff 4; Senior Play.

Jack is the baby of our class—sweet sixteen (we'll stop at that.) "Have you heard this one?" is his favorite remark. Spends his life dodging Miss Nesbitt. Huge capacity for sundaes.

HARRY KRISTOFF

Class Basketball 1, 2, 4; SEE Staff 1, 2, 3; VOYAGER Staff 4; Student-Faculty 4; Class President 4; Freshman Dance; Sophomore Hop; Junior Prom; Senior Dance.

Harry wants the photographer to remove the bags from under his eyes. He has an awful strong weakness for a redhead from Winchester. Now answers to the name of Limehouse (not Light-horse.) He can take the words out of Miss Coogles' mouth before she says them.

ELIZABETH LANGER

G Clef 2, 3; Choir 4; Camera Club 3, 4; SEE Staff 1, 2, 3, 4, Editor 4; VOYAGER Staff 1, 4; Dramateur Club 2, 3, 4; Senior Play Publicity; Junior Prom; Sophomore Hop; Senior Play; Magazine Campaign 4; National Honor Society 3, 4; Freshman Party.

Betty could pose for any dental ad. She has lots of brains and lots of talent. She has a nice voice but is a bit shy about letting it out. She does most of the publicity for most of the affairs and publications about school.

ROBERT LEE

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Swing Band 2, 3, 4; Ensemble 1, 2, 3, 4; A Cappella Choir 4; Hi-Y 2, 3, 4; Dramateur Club 2, 3, 4; Varsity "C" 4; Wrestling Manager 2, 3, 4, Letter 4; Hi-Y Basketball 4; Canteen Committee 3, 4; Senior Play 4.

Robert has an enormous activity list; there is not much he has missed—music, sports, acting, class committees. He is a nice-looking boy who has surmounted the difficulty of being a teacher's son.

LOIS LUEBBE

G Clef 2; Double Mixed Quartet 3, 4; A Cappella Choir 3, 4; GAA 2, 3, 4, Secretary 4; Dramateur Club 2, 3, 4; Honor Society 3, 4, President 4; VOYAGER Staff 2; Basketball 4; Senior Dance 4; Drama Club Dance 3; Freshman Party; Senior Play Committee 2, 3; Senior Play; Magazine Campaign 4.

One of the more smartly dressed girls in this school, Lois is tops on the piano and has ambitions in the concert line. She is just nuts about baseball and Frankie Gustine; an honor student, even in chemistry.

JEAN HUREY

GAA 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4; Junior Prom 3.

The nut-brown maid, round-faced, earnest, conscientious—may be the result of being the ninth of ten children. Naturally curly hair. Ambition: to be a private secretary, and she'll make a darned good one.

DOROTHY HUTCHISON

GAA 1, 2, 3; Camera Club 3, 4; Dramateur Club 4; Cheerleader 3, 4; Bowling 2; Class Vice President 2; Sophomore Dance 2; SEE Reporter 1.

Hutch is far and away the best dressed girl in the school, and she'll probably succeed in her ambition to be a designer of clothes. Her favorite color is navy blue—accent on the navy. Hutch is as goodnatured as she is good-looking.

GEORGE KLAPACH

Varsity "C" 4; Football 3, 4, Letter 4.

George has channeled his school activities mainly into football, where he excels. He finds more glamour in out-of-town girls, which isn't fair to home talent. He gangs around with the football boys.

JEAN KRASS

Commercial Club 4, Program Committee 4; GAA 2, 3, 4; SEE Staff 3, 4; Junior Prom; Senior Dance.

The other half of the McCabe-Krass team—you should see and hear them, with Jean at the wheel of the family car, but wise people generally have business elsewhere at that time. Jean loves dancing and also can always be counted on to do more than her share of any committee work.

JAMES MacMANUS

Hi-Y 3, 4; Class Basketball 1; Hi-Y Basketball 3, 4; SEE Staff 4; VOYAGER Staff 4.

Lanky and agreeable (his big brother calls him Bones), Mac is a sensation, of sorts, in French. When not busy building model trains, he occupies a portion of Benny's corner. Mac also spares some time for Doris.

MARY ELLEN MARUCCI

G Clef 3, 4; Dramateur Club 2, 3, 4; Treasurer 4; GAA 4; Senior Secretary; Senior Dance; Dramateur Dance 4; Senior Play Committee 2, 3; Magazine Campaign 4.

Mary Ellen has a dimple in her chin and twinkling eyes and deep waves in her black hair. It's a nice combination in a nice girl. In her more serious moments she keeps a war scrap book, complete with tokens and ration books.

DOROTHY McCABE

GAA 1, 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4; Bowling 2, 4; Volleyball 1, 2; Junior Prom; Senior Dance; Student-Faculty 4.

Pinky (however she got that name we can't tell you) is the energetic type; she loves skating, dancing, basketball, and horse-back riding. She and Jean Krass each admit, on paper, that the other is her chief fault, but that doesn't keep them apart. She's a loyal citizen: two weeks at Langley sent her scuttling back to home and friends.

HELEN ODETTE McCREADY

G Clef 4; GAA 3, 4; Tri-Hi-Y 4; Alternate Representative, Tri-Hi-Y 4.

Helen Odette (all of it, please) is a skating enthusiast, one of the Sports Haven mob. She can be identified anywhere by the words, "You know, kid, you know!" Her ambition is to be a good secretary.

ELEANOR JUNE McDONALD

Freshman Basketball; GAA 1, 2, 3, 4; Tri-Hi-Y 4, President 4; GAA Dance 4; Senior Dance; National Honor Society 4; Student-Faculty 4; SEE Staff 3, 4; Business Manager 4; VOYAGER Staff 4; G Clef 2; Choir 3, 4; Triple Trio 3, 4; Senior Play; Junior Town Meeting of the Air 4; Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Contestant 4.

Eleanor is another person who finds the hours in school too short for everything she wants to do. She's very capable, but she's a worry wart. She has nice eyes with a Chinky slant.

MARY LEE McKEAN

A Cappella 2, 3, 4; Double Mixed Quartet 3, 4; GAA 1, 2, 3, 4 Vice President 4; Dramateur Club 3, 4; Volleyball 2, 3, 4; Basketball 2, 3, 4; Dramateur Club Dance.

McCready and McKean (with a long e) are seldom seen apart, and both insist on their full names. Mary Lee is a cute blonde who is frequently convulsed with giggling, to the dismay of her teachers.

MARION DOLORES MERCHANT

GAA 2; Tri-Hi-Y 4; Commercial Club 4; SEE Staff 4; Dance Committee 4; Band 2, 3, 4.

Merch has black hair and black eyes, and she's a snappy stepper when she moves out with the band carrying that big Carnegie banner. She's one of these dames who keep people waiting on street corners—ask Alice Young.

MILDRED EVELYN MOSCHIEWSKY

Tri-Hi-Y 4; Membership Committee 4; Commercial 4.

Mildred has no high-flying ambitions; being a housewife is good enough for her. A friendly soul, she really writes letters, probably cracking her gum while she does it.

MARGIE NETZEL

GAA 1, 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4; Sophomore Hop; GAA Skating Party.

Another member of the Sports Haven mob and a pillar of the G.A.A. Possessor of one of the smoothest complexions in the high school, Margie manages to be both a glamour girl and one of the best all-round athletes in girls' sports.

WILLIAM NIXON

Wrestling 3, 4.

There ought to be a law about quiet people who don't loaf at Bell's or Means' or date the girls or things and stuff. Bill has beautiful hair, and everybody says he's nice, but the guy's an isolationist.

LOUISE OLIVER

G Clef 4; GAA 4; Commercial Club 4; Bowling 4; Volleyball 3; Junior Prom; GAA Dance 4.

Louise pinch hits when Mr. Lee's secretary is down with the flu. She also assists Miss Hepler in grading papers. On the side, she likes dancing and skating. Her ambitions are domestic. She's a small package, but she's dynamic.

DOUGLAS STEWART OLIVER

Glee Club 3; A Cappella Choir 3, 4; Double Mixed Quartet 4; Camera Club 1, 2, 3, 4; President 4; Hi-Y 2, 3, 4, Vice President 4; National Honor Society 3, 4; Varsity "C" 4; Secretary 4; Wrestling 1, 2, 3, 4; Letter 4; Football 2, 3, 4; Letter 4; Class Treasurer 2; Senior Play.

Stew is tall, handsome, and curly-haired—the dream man of all the girls. He ambles along in an easy manner but manages to get places. He is quite outstanding in scholastic ability and enjoys French—maybe. You can usually find him at home working on his bus, his pride and joy.

CAROLE O'TOOLE

GAA 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4; Bowling 3, 4; VOYAGER Typist 4; GAA Nominating Committee 3.

Shades of Ireland—green shades—if it isn't a blue-eyed, black-haired colleen, dancing, skating, and always just a wee bit late. Carole doesn't hate school exactly, but she sort of feels that it fences her in.

SHIRLEY ANN PARKER

Commercial Club 4; Business Manager, VOYAGER Staff 4; Camera Club 4; Bowling 3, 4; Senior Dance.

The folks probably didn't realize when they named her that they were saddling her with S. A. P., but other people found out and told her about it. Shirley is really a very nice girl, and she gets around, even though she is pigeon-toed.

SYLVIA FAY PERESMAN

Choir 2, 3, 4; Triple Trio 3, 4; GAA 1, 2, 3, 4; Camera Club 2, 3, 4; SEE Staff 2; Honor Society 3, 4; Girls' Basketball 1, 4; Volleyball 4; Senior Play; Student-Faculty 4.

Sylvia is one of the leaders of our class, in grades, sports, music, clothes, and looks. Her hobby is keeping up with the latest fashions—maybe that is why she goes to New York so often—maybe! A peach bloom complexion and naturally curly hair don't detract from her charms.

LUCILLE MARIE PETROZELLI

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Swing Band 3, 4; Ensemble 2, 3, 4; Camera Club 4; Senior Dance; Senior Magazine Campaign.

Lu can usually be found with her nose buried in the latest best seller. Those few moments in which she is not reading she devotes to the band. During the football season Lu is one of our most loyal fans. She goes, rain or shine and whether the band can go or not.

JOHN POCHYNOK

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Ensemble 4; Hi-Y 4; Wrestling 3; Hi-Y Basketball 4; Student Leader of Band 4; Dance Committee 3; Class Treasurer 3.

John has a fascinating voice—or so the girls say—and penetrating eyes. (Maybe he should go in for hypnotism.) He devotes much of his energy to the band and is a capable student leader. He nurses a secret passion, but we won't say for whom.

DANIEL PYSH

Glee Club 4; Camera Club 4; Football 3, 4; Class Basketball 2, 4; Sophomore Hop 2; Camera Club Dance 4.

Dan has done a little of almost everything in school. He has played on the teams, been a member of several committees, and also of several clubs. He is another member of our class who is a little on the quiet side. A poll conducted in the high school would say he's a nice guy.

CARMELLA ROMEO

G Clef 2, 3; A Cappella Choir 4; Dramateur Club 4; Commercial Club 4.

Carm is one of these helpful people that are nice to have around. Her pet peeve is a real one: she just hates to get up in the morning (don't we all). If she wants to be a secretary, she'll have to forget those day dreams.

MARTHA JEAN ROSS

G Clef 2; A Cappella 3, 4; Dramateur Club 2, 3, 4; GAA 2, 3, 4; Senior Dance Committee; Dramateur Dance Committee 2, 4; SEE Reporter 2.

Martha Jean is one of the socially-minded people, and she always has a little packet of tickets to sell. She gets around, nevertheless, both in and out of school, as her list of activities will show. She really has acting ability, and her parts in Dramateur Club suit her.

JEWEL LEE SADOWSKY

Dramateur Club 3, 4; GAA 2, 3, 4; Basketball; Volleyball; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; G Clef; Senior Dance; Dramateur Dance; Class Secretary 2.

Jewel started her devastating career in her sophomore year when she was chosen Oomph Girl of C. H. S., and she has been breaking hearts ever since. She plays a mean trumpet and does a solo in the band concerts. She confesses to a weakness for sundaes.

JANE SANDRUS

GAA 1, 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4; Secretary 4; Sophomore Hop; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; VOYAGER Staff 4.

Janie is our high stepping majorette with baton and shako, and her legs are straight from Varga. She and Jeanne Stys make up one crazy pair—the brunette and blonde of it. Janie likes school most when classes are over, but she makes an exception for typing.

IRENE SCHNEIDER

G Clef 2; Quartet 4; Choir 3, 4; GAA 1, 2, 3, 4; Camera Club 3, 4; GAA Dance 4; Camera Club Dance 4; Student-Faculty 4; Canteen 4.

Irene is so tired of being told she doesn't look a bit like her sister that we won't say a thing about it. She likes to mess around in a dark room (camera). She's an easy-going girl, but she confesses that silly freshman girls irk her.

MILDRED ELIZABETH SCHNEIDER

G Clef 4; Camera Club 2, 3, 4; GAA 1, 2, 3, 4; Dance Committee 3; SEE Staff 3, 4; Magazine Campaign 4.

Moe is one of those quiet, hard working people who really grub away at their Latin. Nevertheless, she manages to belong to several clubs, help edit the SEE, and serve on dance committees. Any friend of Moe's will testify to her staunch loyalty.

NEIL SCHNEIDER

Camera Club 1, 2, 3, 4; VOYAGER Staff 3, 4; SEE Staff 1, 2, 3; Hi-Y 2, 3, 4; Student-Faculty 2, 3; Class Basketball 1, 2; Wrestling 1; Hi Y Basketball 3, 4; Canteen Committee 3, 4.

Neil goes around with a candid camera hanging around his neck—call him Ace, boys. He experimented with sideburns this year but finally rejected them. He likes glamorous girls and plays the field.

AFTON SEMBRAT

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Ensemble 3; Athletic Association 3, 4; Treasurer 3, President 4.

Afton is a devil, in plain ordinary words. He teases all the girls all the time. He plays the cymbals in the band with a deadpan face. He's one of a long parade of Sembrats through this school.

ROMAYNE SMITH

G Clef 2; Triple Trio 3, 4; A Cappella Choir 3, 4; GAA 1, 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4; Volleyball 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Hiking 2; Bowling; Junior Prom; Freshman Party; Cheerleader 2, 3, 4.

Vim, vigor, and vitality, that's Romayne. A tornado in action, and don't get in her way. Good in athletics; takes her cheer-leading seriously (and turns a nice cartwheel.) Loafs out at Means' with the kids.

DOROTHY STECHNA

G Clef 4; GAA 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4.

It would never do to pair off Stech with Merch (don't read this out loud), for Stech hates to be kept waiting. She is a cute kid, but we warn you, she is always hungry.

PHYLLIS ANNE SAWHILL

G Clef 2; Triple Trio 3, 4; Choir 3, 4; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Ensemble 1, 2, 3, 4; GAA 1, 2, 3; Dramateur Club 2, 3, 4; Tri-Hi-Y 4, Senior Representative to Downtown Council; GAA Dance 2, 3; Sophomore Hop; Junior Prom; Senior Dance; Play Committee 2, 3.

It isn't easy to be active and popular and also keep up with your grades when your father is a teacher in your own high school. Phil has turned that trick. Following in her family tradition, she plays an instrument and does vocal solos.

ROBERT STEVENS

Choir 4; Double Mixed Quartet 4; Hi-Y 2, 3, 4, Secretary 3, President 4; County Representative 3; Dramateur Club 2, 3, 4; Varsity "C" 3, 4; Wrestling 1, 2, 3, 4; Letter 3, 4; Football Manager 3, 4; Letter 4; Senior Play Committee 2, 3, 4; Lighting Committee, Band Concert 2, 3; M. C. 4; VOYAGER STAFF, Assistant Editor 4; Canteen, President 4; Student-Faculty 4; Hearst History Contest 4; Junior Town Meeting of the Air 4; Honor Society 4.

Red is a wrestler with a super brain. Serious, at times, and intelligent, he will get somewhere in the world. Red is very popular, and everything keeps him quite busy. He has architectural ability. He is particular about feminine companions. A swell guy, everyone's pal.

JEANNE STYS

G Clef 2; Triple Trio 3, 4; Choir 3, 4; GAA 2, 3, 4, President 4; Flag Twirler 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4; GAA Dance 3; Vice President of Canteen 4.

Jeanne is a genuinely lucky girl—she wins money at bank nights, her hair is both naturally curly and blond, and she has a singing voice that will take her places. She stars as soloist in our school concerts, leads the band as one of the flag twirlers, and devotes any spare time to running the affairs of the G.A.A.

FRANK JOSEPH SUCHAN

Football 2, 3, 4; Senior Class Basketball; Varsity "C" 4.

Frank had such a good time at Conneaut Lake last summer that he would like to make a full time career of vacationing there. He loafs with Tavoletti and Sweich. Frank is one of the stalwarts of the football team.

THERESA MARIE TASCHETTI

G Clef 2, 3; A Cappella 4; Commercial Club 4.

Theresa has nice eyes with long lashes, and she'll do damage with them yet. Her desk never quite closes, and she keeps telling Miss Cochran it really isn't trash. Theresa finds life convulsively amusing, even in class.

DOROTHY TELTHORSTER

Band 1, 2, 3; Ensemble 2, 3; Dramateur Club 2, 3, 4; Tri-Hi-Y 4; Magazine Campaign 4; National Honor Society 4.

As a seamstress Dot is a whiz, even to suits. She is often on the honor roll and on committees that require capable people. One of the Library Hill gang.

EVELYN TETEREFF

Commercial Club 4; Class Treasurer 4; Junior Prom; Senior Dance; VOYAGER Typist 4.

Since Evelyn had this picture taken, she's even cuter with her Ingrid Bergman haircut. She's not all fluff; she holds down the job of class treasurer. Morning, noon, and night, she's always at Means'.

DOLORES MAY TIMCZYK

Commercial Club 4.

Tim is another member of this class who has experimented successfully with glamour haircuts. Another would-be-secretary, she belongs to the giggling contingent, but time and the cold, cold world will cure that.

CHARLENE JUNE TOHEY

G Clef 4; GAA 1, 2, 3, 4; Dramateur Club 4; Student-Faculty 4; Dramateur Club Dance 4; Senior Ring Committee; Cheerleader 3, 4; Student Director, Senior Play; Junior Town Meeting 4.

Char is a cutie—and has brains too—top grades in history, exemptions in English, school representative on radio forum. Char practically closes up the school every night, but she manages to get home in time for calls from Bridgeville. She is most definitely a jitterbug addict, but she swoons over Andre Kostelanetz.

FRANK TORCHIA

A Cappella Choir 2, 3, 4; Ensemble 2, 3, 4; Double Mixed Quartet 3; Swing Band 3, 4; Glee Club 2, 3; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Varsity "C" 4; Football 4, Letter 4; Class Basketball 1; B Squad 2; Wrestling 2, 3, 4; Class President 2; Senior Dance 4.

There isn't a music group in this school that Frank doesn't belong to. There isn't a sport he hasn't participated in. He was class president our sophomore year, and he was on the dance committee this year. Nevertheless, Frank has a spark of the devil in him.

ANTOINETTE MARIE TROMBETTA

Commercial Club 4.

Black eyes and black hair—if she doesn't have a red coat, she ought to. Toni hits the honor roll quite frequently and loafs while the rest of us sweat during exams. Her ambition is to be a good secretary, and the odds are high in her favor.

MARIETTA TUDAS

SEE Staff 4; Student-Faculty 4; Commercial Club 4, President 4; GAA 4; Senior Dance.

Tude has a slow, lazy smile. Nothing hurries her, not even duties as president of Commercial Club, but she does get around to dancing quite often. Tude likes attractive clothes, especially sweaters.

MARY JANE UPCRAFT

Tri-Hi-Y 4; GAA 4; Robinson High 1, 2, 3.

Dreamy, aloof, reserved, Mary Jane drifts through school like someone from another world. With her pallid skin, dark hair, and gray eyes, she belongs to the days of Dante Gabriel Rossetti—or even of King Arthur of Camelot.

WANDA AGNES VOLK

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Senior Dance 4; Commercial Club 4.

Wanda blows a trombone in the band. When she isn't in school, she gathers in the dimes for Murphy's. Her ambition is to be a bank clerk and eventually a bookkeeper. She's a nice kid, and we wish her all sorts of luck.

JOHN WARDZINSKI

Commercial Club 4; Football 4; Class Basketball 1.

A brave boy, whose desire to be a bookkeeper has led him into a flock of giggling girls, John escapes at times into the more masculine world of football. John is one of those rare men whom color glamorizes—blue for him.

GLADWYN WELLS

G Clef 2, 3; GAA 2, 3, 4; Commercial Club 4, Vice President 4.

Look at the name, and you'll know she's Welch. Gladwyn is one of the littler girls, but she makes her share of music for the school. Her hobby is taking pictures, and her only weakness is talking in class.

LEROY WHITEMAN

Camera Club 2, 3, 4, Vice President 4.

Leroy is a hard-working member of the Camera Club, and his weekends are spent in McCann's as guardian of shoppers' packages. He is one of our more serious-minded boys; his ambition is to be a minister.

MARY LOU WILLIAMS

G Clef 2, 3; Choir 4; GAA 1, 2, 3; Basketball; Volleyball.

Mary Lou Wms (as she writes it) is one of the best basketball players in the class and a very active member of GAA. Her hobby is dancing; her chief fault, according to her, is boys (a nice fault, if you can get it).

CLYDE WILLISON

A Cappella Choir 4; Hi-Y 2, 3, 4; Football 2, 3, 4; Class Basketball 1, 2; Hi-Y Basketball 2, 4; SEE Staff 1, 2, 3; Senior Play.

Clyde is one of those people who never let school bother them. He has a weakness for glamorous women. He can be found almost any time loafing on Bell's corner with Neil. One of the few people in this school who always wears a tie.

FRANCIS RAYMOND SWEICH

Football 2, 3; Class Basketball 4.

One of the handsomest boys in the class, Ray is also the most faithful, having dated the same girl for three years, a very pretty little junior. Ray hasn't taken school too seriously until this year; now he spends more time in study hall and less in the office.

MARY WOLSTONCROFT

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Stage Band 1, 2; Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4; Choir 4; Tri-Hi-Y 4; Program Committee 4; Camera Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Secretary 4; Sophomore Hop.

Mary gets up at the crack of dawn every school day to get here from Collier Township, and how she hates to carry a lunch! She is a very active and essential member of the band. Mary devotes her spare time and energy to working for the Camera Club.

ALICE YOUNG

Commercial Club 4; Tri-Hi-Y 4; VOYAGER Staff 4; Senior Dance; Tri-Hi-Y Food Collection 4.

Alice is short and blonde, and she spends her time waiting on street corners for Merch, and Merch is always late. Alice's heart is with the navy, and she keeps a weather eye out for the mailman.

MARGARET YOUNG

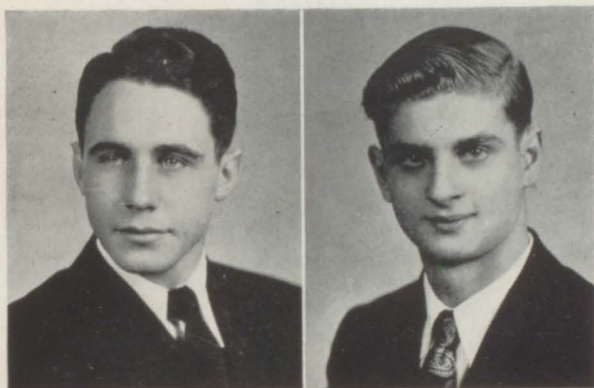

Tri-Hi-Y 4; GAA 4; Sophomore Hop.

Margie is a hard working student. To look at this radiant girl, you'd never think that spelling throws her for a loop and reduces her to tears. She and Anne Johnston make an inseparable pair.

SHIRLEY CHARMAINE YOUNG

G Clef 2, 3; A Cappella 4; GAA 4; Tri-Hi-Y 4; Class Secretary 3; Dance Committee 3, 4; Social Committee, Tri-Hi-Y 4.

Shirl sparkles—her eyes, skin, laughter, her whole personality. You'll find her on dance committees and in musical groups. Prefers blue to khaki. She and Doris Haver are seldom seen apart.

*Best Dicks
Johnny Wheat*

DONALD YOURD

Glee Club 3; Double Mixed Quartet 3, 4; Choir 2, 3, 4; Hi-Y 2, 3, 4; Dramateur Club 2, 3, 4, President 4; Varsity "C" 4; Football 2, 3, 4, Letter 4; Wrestling 1, 2, 3, 4, Letter 4; Class Basketball 1, 4; Hi-Y Basketball 3; Class Vice President 4; Senior Play Committee 2, 3; Dance Committee 3, 4; VOYAGER Staff 1; SEE Staff 1; Student-Faculty 3, 4; Junior Town Meeting 4; Senior Play.

Don is just about the most active person in this school—take a look at his activity list. And he is also just about the best-looking—but hands off, girls, he belongs to Millie.

MARTIN YOUSCHAK

Dance Committee 2; Class Basketball 4.

Yoey is quiet, as a matter of fact, very quiet. He likes to play basketball and baseball. He enjoys solid geometry. Martin claims he has no desire for the weaker sex. Ha!

JOHN WHEAT

Nominating Committee 4; Commercial Club 4.

Johnny is quiet and studious. He spent a lot of time in the hospital this year, but he managed to get back in time to graduate with us. He is friendly toward all his classmates and school chums.

TOWN TOPICS

On Wednesday evening a trolley party left here about 8:15 for Dravosburg, Pa., which was a beautiful sight indeed. Both cars were decorated highly and showed the red, white, and blue in electricity on the outside of the car. Among those present were: Bill Abraham, Virginia Boehmer, Bob Geisler, Marilyn Howk, Alfred Annesi, Robert Mathias, Anne Johnston, and Barbara Knepper. They were entertained all the way with music by the Citizens' band, under the direction of Bob Langer. On the way home the party stopped off for a short time at William's Park to trip the light fantastic.

Raspberries are selling at 3c a quart.

Jim Hall has purchased a pair of handsome black horses for his new beer wagon.

A wagon load of people numbering twelve drove out in the country for a picnic Thursday including: Jack Keisling, Ronald Parker, John Mathias, Robert Stuart, Frank Lempert, Charles Wells, Shirley Frazier, Bobbie Irvin, Mary Jane Watts, Terry Spano, Dorothy Uram, and Ruth Danks.

Camillo Zarroli has started a weekly newspaper as a rival to Harry Zaharko's "Post."

LOCAL TALENT

A very delightful outdoor concert was conducted by Vladimir Moschiwsky Wednesday evening.

A program of local talent was given the other night. Stanley Swidrak, Carmen Tavoletti, Louis Torchia and Ira Walker formed a fine Barber Shop Quartet. A short play was given by Rosemarie Sorbara, Dolores Szafraniec, Norma Jean Theiss, and Mary Zadarko entitled "Four Old Maids." It was very amusing indeed.

A party of Carnegie people attended Lieutenant Stewart's lecture at Swentowsky's Music Hall. Angeline Fontana, Lois Hicks, Edna Hines, Shirley Kensington, Katherine Koss, Josephine Leon, Nancy Pretka, Lillian Pronko and Mary Sansoni found it very interesting.

CY CULLINGS

Miss Elva Krass has a fine new bicycle.

Jim Maloney has a new "Blue Boy", a match for Tom Pirozak's wheel.

Isabel Houston, our town artist, was cycling with Thelma Evans last Saturday.

"Did you hear of that terrible fracas upstreet in Novak's barber shop this afternoon when Burns was cut?" "No, that's too bad; what Burns was it?" "Sideburns."

A WAYSIDE PHILOLOGIST

The crusty janitor motioned them away.

"Don't you see that sign?" he said pointing to the framed inscription, "Loafers Not Allowed on Premises."

"Ef you think we're loafers becuz we're tryin' to get some bread and butter with a little apple sas on it," replied Mosley Wraggs, pulling up his greasy coat collar with a lofty air, "you don't understand the durrivative of the word. We're slicers."

With a parting look of scorn he strode away, followed by Tuffold Knutt.

Why are kisses like rumors? They pass from lip to lip.

Carrie Ford, Mary Lewis, and Maybelle Lewis have opened an attractive restaurant on Arch Street.

AN APPLE A DAY

Jack Steinhart, traveling salesman for the Hegeman Pickle Company, is about again after being confined to the house for a week.

A party of flower hunters were caught in the storm Saturday evening while near McCready's farm. Violet Musico and Eva Sembrat have bad colds. They were drenched to the skin.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Howard Northey is courting again.

Russell Catanese will be at home tonight.

Miss Maxine Hepler entertained last evening for Miss Ruth Thomson.

For all your liver ills try Kuzemko's pills.

Miss Ann Bilewicz is spending a weekend in Ohio with friends.

John Kristoff has returned to work after a month's vacation.

Joanne Zern has a bright, new piano.

IN SOCIETY

Miss June Altstadt entertained at dominoes last evening. Miss Shirley Bear won head girl's prize and head boy's prize was won by William Butler. Booby prize was awarded to Frank Brookley.

Miss La Verne Chester entertained about ten of her friends at an orchard party recently. Those present were Irene Evansky, Theresa Goveaszzo, Eugene Haluszczak, Sandy Insana, Joe Komoroski, James Johnson, and Charles Sam.

The Poet says, "What is so fair as a day in June?" but we say, "What is so fair as a Carnegie lady cyclist in shirt waist and short skirt?"

One of the most noted events of the season was a reception in town on Wednesday evening given by Olga Skirpan at the home of her father. The evening was an enjoyable one and will long be remembered by the club. Those from Carnegie who attended it are: Betty Rawlings, Joe Okrutny, June Klee, Ellen Weisband, Sylvia Zemon, Joe Shinko, and Thelma Smarsh. Stella Stasik is also a member of the club.

Irene Oliver has opened a clothing store in Sbarra's Barber Shop.

Grace and Harry Stevens, Agnes Volk, and Mary Zinski took in the Washington Fair this week.

WEDDING BELLS

A marriage license was granted Thursday to Marjorie Willison and Don Harris. Congratulations.

Joe Gibbs and George Mykita, the celebrated evangelists, are working together again.

EARLY MONETIZATION

People don't grow famous in a hurry, neither does any good thing. But only by gaining the confidence of the public. Walder and Foster's Triumph Brand of Flour has been before the people for years and growing to be appreciated more every day, because it is a good thing your grocer will supply you.

It is said that an Indiana girl has invented a lamp that will go out at precisely 10 o'clock p. m. Now if she will let her genius expand and invent a new papa who will go to bed at 9, a dog without teeth, and a little brother who is deaf and dumb, the course of true love may eventually run smooth.

This year our chapter has had the pleasure of two new experiences. For the first time four of our members, Sylvia Peresman, Dorothy Telthorster, Stewart Oliver, and Robert Stevens, took part in the National Honor Society Scholarship Examination. We were also invited to help launch the new chapter at McDonald High School, where members conducted the induction ceremony. Our chapter is one of 3073 across the country. The National Honor Society was founded in 1926 by Mr. Edward Rynearson, who is buried in Chartiers Cemetery. For the fourth time a tea was given by the members for the honor students of the eighth grade.

Since this year marked the tenth anniversary of the founding of the local chapter, all former members of the Honor Society were invited to the formal induction of the new members. The present members of the Society were greatly impressed by the achievements of these men and women during the last ten years. Everyone was again reminded that scholarship, character, leadership, and service are the cardinal principles of this organization.

Membership is limited so that only the outstanding members of the junior and senior classes may be admitted. No graduation class may have more than fifteen per cent of its members in the National Honor Society. These students who have attained this high standard and who have been chosen by faculty vote to become members of the National Honor Society are therefore to be congratulated upon the excellence of their record while in high school.

The See Staff

The tenth volume of the SEE was the result of our journalistic attempts this year.

In the compact cubicle we have carelessly, thoughtfully, specifically, or otherwise dubbed the SEE Room, confusion is a byword. An energetic staff, constantly prodded by the editor, endeavors to produce a magazine suitable for student consumption. Typists punch keys incessantly; artists sweat to get ideas for the cover or for that birthday page; the burden of securing material for the SEE seems to be an albatross about the necks of the reporters and the editor; the mimeograph is kept turning by ink-smeared individuals—the mechanical operators.

The SEE is especially proud of its own brand of humor; that is, corn. For each issue of the SEE, the Humor Editor delves into her secret collection of the best in humor.

Behind them, the staff of 1945-1946 has left a year of hard work, and to future workers on the SEE, they bequeath the best of memories, the highest of ambitions, and hopes for success in the future of the SEE.

The band held their sixteenth annual concert on March 29 with Robert Stevens as master of ceremonies. The program followed the pattern of the old time concerts at the village band stand on the green in the Gay Nineties. Vocal soloists were Mr. R. R. Sawhill and Edward West. Instrumental soloists were Jewel Sadowsky, Joe Gibbs, and Ira Walker. Jewel Sadowsky, John Pochynok, Ralph Todino, and John Stasik made up a trumpet quartet. Singing in close harmony as a barber shop quartet were Edward West, Robert Lee, James Hall, and Bob Stuart. A comedy skit was presented by Jewel Sadowsky and Robert Lee, and the band's half of the concert was brought to an end by John Pochynok, student leader, who conducted two marches.

The final appearance of the band is made at Commencement.

Double Mixed Quartet

As the name implies, this group is composed of four girls and four boys. The girls, who take high notes of the four-part songs which they sing, are Irene Schneider, Mary Lee McKean, Lois Luebbe, and Thelma Evans. The tenors are Stewart Oliver and Donald Yourd, and the basses, who hit those deep low notes, are Robert Stevens and Robert Stuart. They did a splendid job on the following songs in the Spring Concert:

"Thank God for a Garden,"
 "Ma Little Banjo,"
 "Invictus."

First Row: 1 Schneider, 2 Luebbe, 3 Evans.
 Second Row: 1 McKean, 2 Stuart, 3 Stevens,
 4 Oliver, 5 Yourd.

Ensemble

The Ensemble is composed of some of the members of the regular band who enjoy classical music. This year they have played for many activities connected with the school. This group presents several numbers at the annual Spring Concert and the senior play. They also made several public appearances during the Christmas season.

This group does arrangements of classical music and plays accompaniments for selections given by choral groups.

Second Row: 1 Hurless, 2 Lee, 3 Walker, 4 Yoder, 5 Yaros, 6 Raabe, 7 Volk, 8 Mykita, 9 Gibbs

Twice a week the harmonious sounds of the swing band may be heard throughout the halls. Under the direction of Mr. Cameron, the Swing Band is progressing very rapidly. This year they presented the second half of the concert. After playing the opening number, Tchaikowsky's "Tonight We Love," they featured vocal solos by Phyllis Sawhill, Jean Stys, Patricia Bock, and Stephen Telep. Leonora Messineo, Betty Dombrosky, and Margaret Unger presented tap dances. The program was brought to a close with the ever popular "Star-dust".

G CLEF

Girls from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes make up this music group. Under Mrs. Nirella's leadership, they blend their voices, soprano, second soprano, and alto, into a combination which makes for beautiful music. The Spring Concert certainly would not have been complete without songs by the G Clef. They were: "My Mother Bids Me," "Serenade,"

"Romance of Old China," "Chimes of Spring."

CHOIR

On Monday and Wednesday afternoons all through the school year the A Cappella Choir, members of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes, can be heard straining their voices in the music room of Washington School. This year there are fifty-two members in the choir. Besides providing an opportunity to let out one's desire to sing, it is a time when everyone seems to have a lot of fun (sometimes to Mrs. Nirella's dismay.) It seems as if the tenors don't think the sopranos can sing at all well, and vice versa. The basses and altos are in for their share of the kidding, too. On the night of the Spring Concert, April 26, all parts seemed to be "on the beam" and rendered some beautiful music in the form of: "Brother James Air," "O Sing Your Songs," "All in the April Evening," "My Johnny Was a Shoemaker," and "I Hear America Singing."

Nine girls who are really "solid senders" in the field of sweet music make up the Triple Trio of Carnegie High School. In the alto section, which is "strictly in the groove," we find Romyne Smith, Sylvia Peresman, and Lois Day. We have heard it said that, when it comes to singers who have "mournful pans", Romyne and Lois get top honors. In the second third, that is to say the second sopranos, we have Fidelis Baux, Edna Hines, and Jeanne Stys, all of whom have lovely voices. If you want a B flat and can't quite reach it, consult the soprano section of the Trio or Dolores Franc, Phyllis Sawhill, and Eleanor McDonald. The trio has been called on more and more frequently in recent years to provide entertainment for the clubs of Carnegie. This they gladly do. Along with their large part in the Spring Concert and their songs at the senior play, they are kept quite busy. Carnegie High is proud of the work of the Triple Trio.

The Glee Club, composed of sophomore, junior, and senior boys, is our nearest facsimile of the old-fashioned barber shop quartet. These boys can really sing songs like "Stout Hearted Men." Almost all of the nineteen boys who made up this year's Glee Club were new recruits, but they sounded like seasoned veterans in their performance in the Spring Concert. They sang "All Through the Night," "Shadow March," "Hallelujah," and "Hie-away Home."

The Camera Club

The Camera Club was organized early in 1938 by E. D. Jarema. It wasn't until the 1938-1939 term that members and officers were elected. The club was founded for the sole purpose of instructing qualified members of the different classes in the processes of taking, developing, and printing pictures. A social event was sponsored each year by the club for financial aid in obtaining equipment.

In 1942, Mr. Jarema was succeeded by Melvin C. Burkett. Unhindered by this change of sponsors, the club continued to advance. Mr. Burkett, operating under wartime conditions, was still able to produce top-notch amateur photographers.

During this term of 1945-1946, with the ceasing of hostilities, more and better photographic equipment became available to camera fans. Taking advantage of this, Mr. Burkett enthusiastically began his lectures on the subject. The members took these lectures to heart, and through actual experience became good amateur photographers. This year the club sponsored the Hatchet Hop. Although it was a tea dance, it still made quite a profit. With the proceeds from this successful dance, the club purchased new chemicals and equipment for next year's work.

The year ended with the election of new officers and a banquet.

Under the able guidance of Mr. Sawhill, the Hi-Y has again demonstrated its ability to extend throughout school and community high standards of Christian character.

The club's activities this year are headlined by its sponsorship of the Blue Jean Jump, attracting over 350 students—a record attendance. Such success is a tribute to the fine cooperation among the fourteen members who made up the club at that time. With the addition of twenty-six new members, regular activities began, such as an athletic party and a swimming party. Other services include the annual Christmas tree decoration and aid in furthering the success of our Teen-Age Canteen.

New members will long remember the impressive formal induction as well as the somewhat less formal initiation. A fine banquet rounded out another successful year.

The newest addition to the roster of organizations in Carnegie High is the Tri-Hi-Y. This club is the sister organization of the Hi-Y, it too being sponsored by the Young Men's Christian Association. Girls from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes are eligible for membership. The membership, however, is limited to forty girls. Although it was new, the Tri-Hi-Y enjoyed a very active year. A dance on May 2 was the main social event sponsored by the club, to which the whole student body was invited. Since the club has for its purpose high ideals of Christian fellowship, a campaign to secure canned food for the starving people of Europe was carried out. The campaign was a great success, with 438 cans collected, or a bit more than eighteen cases. Room 17 brought in 68 cans, the largest contribution from any one room.

The Robinson Township Tri-Hi-Y officiated at the induction service held soon after the organization of the club. Reverend Mr. Stewart of the Presbyterian Church spoke on the religious aspect of the club. The last meeting of the Tri-Hi-Y was a wiener roast held at Carnegie Park. Everyone wishes the new organization much success.

Commercial Club

Well, what do you know? The Commercial Club finally got organized! (I'm not kidding, either.) After several postponements and excuses a meeting was called the second Tuesday of March. The electric strike caused most of our delay in calling a meeting. We had our business meeting first and then went down to the gym and danced. Ice cream and cookies were served.

Any junior who has an average of 85% is eligible to join the club. To our disappointment we found only four eligible to join. If we don't reduce the average, we won't have very much of a club. When you are a senior and carry four commercial subjects, you automatically become a member.

It's a relief not to hear that old worn out statement, "When are we having our Commercial Club meeting?" We hope the future members will keep the club going. Here's wishing success to the members of the Commercial Club of Carnegie High School.

Ever since the organization of the Dramateur Club under the guidance of Miss Rachel Coogle, the selected members as well as the school as a whole have benefited by its activities. This year's Dramateur Club has passed through another successful year under the supervision of Miss Betty Brandon.

Beccuse of the benefits afforded to a student by being a member of the club, applications this year, as in years past, were many in number. The applicants during their tryouts appeared bashful, shy, and far from being self-assured actresses and actors. By these tryouts students of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes were accepted according to the standards set up by the Dramateur Club in previous years.

With these new members as well as the old, the club started into a year of well-organized activities. The first promising social event of the year was the timely-named Hubba Hubba Hop, attended by practically all the student body. Short plays were given for the entertainment of the members after each business meeting. Some of these plays were re-enacted for community organizations.

The most important project for the club was the all-important back stage work done to aid in the presentation of the senior play, STRICTLY FORMAL.

As in previous years a banquet for the club was held where special awards were given by Miss Brandon for outstanding ability shown by its members.

The Senior Play

The annual Senior Play was presented on April 12, 1946, by the Senior Class in co-operation with the Dramateur Club.

STRICTLY FORMAL, a comedy in three acts, was written by William Davidson. The play was under the fine supervision of Miss Betty Brandon. Charlene Tohey acted as student-director, and Miss Hepler was our critic.

The plot of the play centers around the trials and tribulations of ordinary high school seniors trying to get dates for the J-S Dance. Jane Cutler and Sally, her best friend, are having a little difficulty until Cindy Collins, Jane's cousin, arrives from Deucyville, Iowa, and starts to solve the problems. One of the big problems is Marcia, Sally's sophisticated cousin from New York, who tries to get all the boys to take her to the dance. They eliminate her by giving her the mumps so that George is free to take Jane, Elroy in trim to take Cindy, and Jim relieved from his French to escort Sally.

When the night of the dance arrives, Cindy is struggling with Elroy's dancing and with the problem of getting a ride for George and Jane and a date for Rose. She was the one who gave Marcia the mumps. By nine o'clock everyone is united and off for a gala evening at the dance.

Ambitious and energetic members of the senior class stalked the streets of Carnegie and thereabouts for magazine subscriptions. The Black Team, captained by Angeline Adams, fought valiantly to top the subscriptions scored by Jane Firth's Orange Team. Stewart Oliver reached an all-high with individual sales of $101. Lois Luebbe ran a close second with high sales of $94. Under the guidance of Miss Cochran, the senior class sold subscriptions amounting to $1516.90, with a profit of $522.51 to Carnegie High School. Student salesmen selling over twenty dollars worth of subscriptions posed for the picture in the VOYAGER. It was decided by the seniors to put the money received for an ice cream party into the class treasury for subsequent use.

The Junior Town Meeting of the Air

What place should women have in post-war industry? Students of Carnegie and Crafton High School found an excellent opportunity to present their views on this matter over the Junior Town Meeting of the Air. The broadcast of March 5 from the Crafton auditorium was one of many which were sponsored regularly by station WWSW and the Pittsburgh POST-GAZETTE. Under the direction of Miss Hepler, our speakers, Charlene Tohey and Don Yourd, spent long hours of research. Charlene spoke for, and Don spoke against, a place for women in industry. Also representing Carnegie were two alternates, Eleanor McDonald and Robert Stevens, who took part in the question period afterwards. Although a trifle uneasy at the thought of speaking over the air, all participants succeeded in presenting an interesting and educational program. Portable radios enabled our student body to hear the broadcast from their classrooms, while upper classmen of Crafton assembled in the auditorium.

Dolly McNamee and Donald Giffin, under the guidance of Mrs. Howe, represented Crafton, while Dr. R. O. Hughes, author of many history and civics textbooks, acted as moderator.

What would you do without sports? It would be sort of dull, wouldn't it? Well, you can thank the Athletic Association for any and all of our sports. This is the organization that makes it possible for us to have football, basketball, and wrestling among the activities for the boys, plus volleyball and basketball for the girls. The organization schedules all games and matches, buys equipment, secures transportation, and does all other little jobs which the spectator very seldom realizes are even there to be done. Members of the Athletic Association include all our coaches, Mr. Lee, who is an advisor, and two officers who are chosen from the student body, plus the president of the Girls' Athletic Association.

Membership consists of: H. H. Lee, advisor; J. A. Adams, Basketball, Physical Education—boys; R. Mitchell, Physical Education—girls; M. C. Burkett, Football; C. R. Stockum, Assistant Football Coach; R. R. Sawhill, Wrestling; Afton Sembrat, President; John Hindman, Treasurer; Jeanne Stys, Secretary.

The Cheerleaders

Adding color, grace, and pep to the athletic events of the school are our seven attractive cheerleaders. Four of them are seniors: Fidelis Baux, head cheerleader, Romaine Smith (oh, what nice flips!), Charlene Tohey, and Dorothy Hutchison. Dorothy Uram is a junior, while Virginia Haudenshield and Pat Daugherty, sophomores, complete the septet.

Being a cheerleader is not as easy or as glamorous as it appears on the surface—at least not at the beginning. The gruelling work begins in the spring of the year. Any freshman or sophomore girl passing in all subjects is eligible to try out. After being taught a few of the more important cheers, the eliminations begin, when the cheerleaders get together to vote on each girl individually. There are four or five of these eliminations before those remaining girls, usually about six or seven, are taken before members of the faculty having a special interest in the sports events. These are Mr. Adams, the athletic director, Mr. Burkett, and Mr. Stockum, football coaches, Miss Mitchell, sponsor of the G. A. A., and Miss Brandon, president of the Student-Faculty Committee. The teachers, with the aid of the cheerleaders, pick the future cheerleaders for their grace, poise, personality, popularity, beauty, or what have you. The head cheerleader is usually the senior girl who has served for the longest time. If more than one is eligible for this honor, the former head cheerleader chooses.

With the exception of the senior letters given by the school, the uniforms are bought, paid for, designed, and made by the girls themselves. This year the uniforms were changed by a majority from all white to one with a black flared skirt, an orange border on the inside of it, and orange tights. This change was welcomed by both students and faculty.

All in all, even if we didn't have such good teams this year, our cute cheerleaders were in there pitching all the time. We certainly ought to be proud of them.

First Row: 1 Tohey, 2 Baux, 3 Hutchison, 4 Smith
Second Row: 1 Haudenshield, 2 Uram, 3 Daugherty

With the return of but one letterman this year, Mr. Burkett's prospects of producing a winning team were slight. However, hopes brightened somewhat upon the return of Mr. Stockum, our popular assistant coach. Together they drilled green boys on the finer points of football. Grueling hours on the hot dusty field produced a very light but fast team. Both coaches were well pleased with the sincere effort our boys displayed throughout the entire season. A group of student managers (stooges) headed by Bob Stevens (chief stooge) did their best to keep the team's equipment in condition.

Oh, the glorious football days, whether the team wins or loses, with the flaming trees in a wide background behind the field, and the green grass and the white lines, and the tootling of the horns and the booming of the drums, and the flash and swagger of the majorettes' legs, and the roar of the crowds, and the smell of orange pop, and the fall of confetti, and the cops chasing the boys on the hill and the boys forever fleeing and the cops forever pursuing (does anybody ever get caught?), and the water boys trotting out with their pails, and the brief glimpse of the briefer britches of the cheerleaders, and the little boys with a business eye out for empty bottles (do they get paid off in free pop?) and the pouncing referees and the sweaty players and the substitutes hunched on their benches—who can ever go to high school and forget the glorious football days?

Our 1945 season opened at Bridgeville amidst a terrific rainstorm, which converted the field into a sea of mud. After a gallant fight the Tartans went down to defeat at the hands of a much heavier team. Our fortunes proved no better as the season progressed. The boys, however, displayed teamwork and sportsmanship admired by students and townspeople alike.

Basketball

Coach Adams had nothing but a dismal future to look forward to for the coming year as far as his basketball team was concerned. With no holdovers from the previous year, and having only Ratajack and Harris with any varsity experience at all, the outlook was not by any means bright. The team however did manage to eke out six wins (two by forfeit over Crafton) while losing fifteen. Long John Baird captured scoring honors by garnering 165 points, while Gabby Bossolono wasn't too far behind with a healthy 127. At times the squad played a brand of ball that spoke well of their ability, while at other times they appeared lackadaisical, and nothing would go right. Of course the team had their share of bad luck, losing several close games, but their worst nemesis appeared to be the referees, who kept insisting that the boys from Carnegie were too rough, which often led to one or more of them being forced to retire to the sidelines.

Although we may not have had the best team in the league, the boys will quickly inform you that it was none other than Carnegie High that had the handsomest. Modest!

The team's outlook for next year is little better. Although Mr. Adams has three lettermen returning, he will have a job finding a capable replacement for Baird at center.

B-Squad

Made up mostly of freshmen and sophomores, the B-Squad's purpose is to develop material for the varsity. Several of this year's team will have to step up to fill the shoes of graduating lettermen. Although they did not do so well this year (winning 4 while losing 18), Coach Adams expects some of the boys to develop into real ball players. All the coach has to worry about is making them forget the ways of their predecessors, the varsity.

Despite the unexpected loss of several experienced matmen, Mr. Sawhill was able to turn out a powerful team containing six boys of no previous experience. This fact makes a fair record seem excellent. After losing to Washington, Chartiers, and Canonsburg, the strongest teams in this section, we defeated Millvale, West View, and Dormont by substantial margins. Each home match drew capacity crowds, showing that wrestling is gaining rapidly in popularity among the student body. At the close of the season hard won letters were awarded to eight boys who succeeded in fulfilling the stiff requirements. Of these eight only two are graduating. Prospects of a championship team next year are brighter than for any previous year.

A successful season was rounded out with a spaghetti dinner given by Mr. John Steinhart. His hospitality was deeply appreciated by Mr. Sawhill and his team.

Varsity "C"

The Varsity "C" is an honorary club which accepts as its members any boy who has earned a letter in any sport. This year membership was very low because of the many boys who had left to join the service. There were only three members from the previous year, and there were no officers. However, the club has returned to normal size through the addition of many new lettermen from the football, basketball, and wrestling teams. The boys elected their officers and quickly sponsored the annual Varsity "C" skating party, which turned out to be a great success and made a good deal of money for our Injury Fund. The club also sponsors, among its other activities, a dinner for its members at the end of the year. Guiding light of this organization is Mr. Burkett, our football coach, who serves in the capacity of faculty adviser.

The boys who earned letters this year are:

FOOTBALL: Stevens, manager, Tavoletti, Rinehart, Ahearn, Harris, Yourd, Williams, Oliver, Klapach, Krasousky, Torchia, Ratajack, Spelar, Suchan, Brookley, Cross, Drost, DeSimone, Ritter, Zaharko.

BASKETBALL: Griffith, manager, Baird, Bossolono, Toney, Geisler, Harris, Ratajack.

Association

The Girls' Athletic Association with Miss Ruth Mitchell as sponsor achieved its purpose of enabling the girls to take part in various sports.

The first and quickest way of becoming a member of the G. A. A. is by being a member of the basketball or volleyball teams. Another way of getting into the organization is by bowling (which put many a crimp in the girls' backs), or by hiking, if you like to walk and have spring chicken feet.

The meetings of the G. A. A. are held the first Thursday of every month, and the girls provide entertainment at each meeting. Some of the amusements are short plays, tap dancing, and piano music. The second meeting of the year was for all the members and their guests. The girls went down to the gym for dancing, with refreshments afterwards, which included coke, candy, and ice cream.

As the months flew by, the time for initiations also came. Everyone looked forward to this, except the new members. Would you like to swallow a raw oyster? Well, the girls had to, and if you don't like hot peppers, that's your tough luck. Oh, well! Everyone survived, but one or two pairs of socks were lost.

As is the usual custom, the Association sold candy and pop at the football games held on the home grounds. The proceeds were shared with the Athletic Association.

The G. A. A. is the largest organization in the school with a unlimited membership.

This sport is the most popular sport of the girls. Miss Mitchell chose the teams from each class, and each class chose its captains from the ones they thought best suited for their purpose.

As in volleyball the seniors won all their games, but the sophomores proved that experience doesn't mean superiority when they defeated their upperclassmen, the juniors. The freshmen lost all their games, but then they needn't feel bad, as it seems to be catchy from one year to the next. The captains of the teams were: Seniors, M. Netzel; Juniors, D. Wilhoit; Sophomores, M. Luscher; Freshmen, N. Okrutny.

SEPTEMBER

4. Back to school again. Things a bit strange without last year's seniors. Handbooks appear for first time in Carnegie history. Room numbers changed. Miss Biddle now Mrs. Kyle Nolf. Mrs. Drummond, who was here for Mr. Stockum while he was in the army, now in Mt. Lebanon. Mr. Stockum back. Miss Burig back from her year's absence, and Mrs. Fisher gone. Mrs. Gray not back and Mr. Lee taking over some of the math classes. Miss Wolford left us for Avalon, and her place filled first by Miss Brennan, who, after three days, decides Carnegie is too far from Homestead Park, and then by Mrs. Musico, a Carnegie High graduate, who is marking time until her beloved Sam returns from the navy. Otherwise, everything the same, except the freshmen no longer use study hall for a report room . . . 14. First game of the season at Bridgeville. Rain, rain, and more rain. Lost 6-0 . . . 20. Seniors elect officers; Harry Kristoff, president . . . 25. Juniors ditto; John Kristoff, president (What is this, anyway—a Kristoff monopoly?) General Biz—Seniors fail to meet magazine campaign quota . . . SEE and VOYAGER staffs chosen . . . Buzz Inn reopens to break monotony of weekends.

OCTOBER

12. Freshmen get their first taste of C. H. S. social life when Hi-Y sponsors its very successful Blue Jean Jump. Don't Harvey Corba and Miss Brandon make a neat couple jitterbugging? . . . The first public school in this district.

Frosh Views

The first high school in Carnegie.

"General, we have stormed the walls." After eight long years of struggle and torture we have finally reached high school. Not that we have anything against grade school, but high school life is grand.

As is the custom, the freshmen are subject to the jeers and laughter of upperclassmen. And to top it off, we have to take it.

If we don't get yelled at for hanging around the fountains, we get it for cluttering up the halls. What we need is a democracy. So, on February 22, we elected class officers. Civic-minded George Oliver was elected president. Handsome Richard Ferri is our vice president, and cute Patricia Ludwig is a very capable secretary. Steve Gordon, the gay yet intelligent boy, is our treasurer.

The 135 freshman students are organized into three report rooms. They are Mrs. Nolf's, Miss Brandon's and Miss Hepler's. But we frosh really appreciate their kind advice and eagerness to help us out.

When asked what we love the most in high school, we would probably say, "Fire drills." Why? No particular reason except that they take up more of our class period, we get a good breath of fresh air, and we get a wonderful enjoyment out of climbing down the fire escape. We are just full of things like that.

Frosh Views

Because of being in high school we believed we were grown-up, but the teachers and upper classmen tamed us down. We found much enjoyment in going to the Canteen, and some clubs turned soft-hearted and let us in.

The first day of school was probably a scream for the seniors. The freshmen obeyed instructions eagerly in a pathetic desire to please and walked about in fear and trembling, their joints turned to water.

"I should have gotten a better grade than that." Yes, report cards. Worried, fidgety, and fussy, we come to school but most of us find that we have come out on top. (Who am I trying to kid?)

At first it was quite a strain on us to be getting out of school at three-forty-five. After a while, though, you get used to such things and a 3:30 dismissal would probably be a treat.

We love study hall and doubt very much if we could get along without it. Although very timid about getting up to sharpen our pencils and such, we manage to be friendly with our neighbors. Only, we wonder why the teacher keeps shaking her head at us. We know she wants us to get acquainted. (Well, doesn't she?)

Most of the freshmen of other schools complain about homework. But do we? Of course not. We just take it all in our stride. Even Ed Kiska thinks it is fun to do homework, and everyday he hands in extra work for teachers just for the enjoyment. Our teachers are considerate though, and give us just what we can handle. (Thank heaven!) They realize we must have some relaxation and never once do they tell us to "Get to work." We are always busy anyway. (Speaking of homework, lend me your algebra.) That is another thing. We never copy because it is against our principles. The attention we give in class is undivided.

Examinations. Ah, yes! We just love examinations. Please don't get the wrong idea and think we want to broaden our minds; it is just that after tests we get out early and have at least two afternoons off. You must admit we use our brains even if it is only for our own benefit.

Another very important thing to tell about the freshmen is that next year we will be sophomores and that our greatest ambition is to be seniors.

Well, now you know. The cat has been let out of the bag, and we are glad. Glad, you hear, glad.
