Dedication

In recognition of a man who is known for his individualism. A man who grasps history and molds it into a reality we can understand and appreciate.

This man is not just a teacher but a friend — a friend who laughs and cries with us, sympathizes with us in our downfalls, and rejoices with us in our glories.

He is always there to talk to — always there when we need him. As a tribute to all the love, time, consideration, and help he has given us in the past four years, we, the senior class of 1975, dedicate 'Reflections '75' to Mr. Stefan Biancaniello.

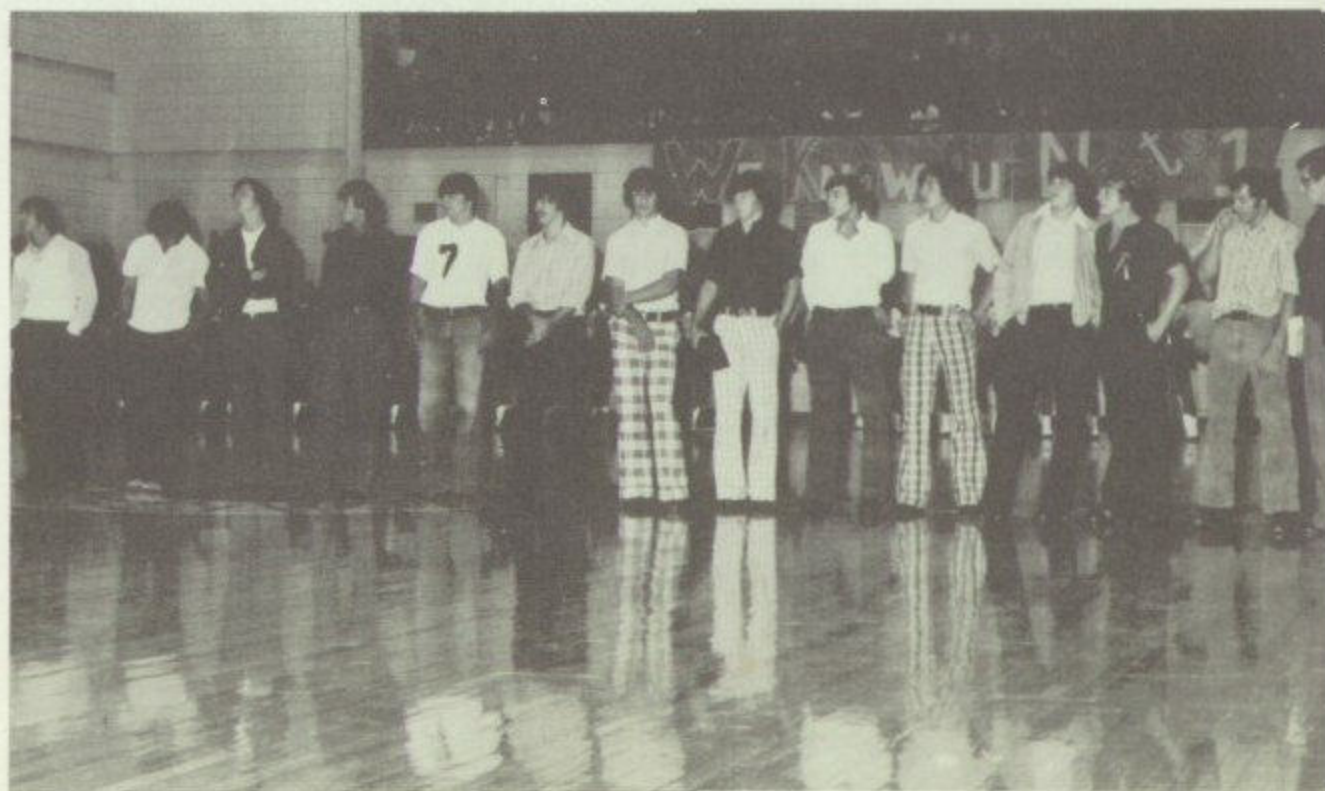

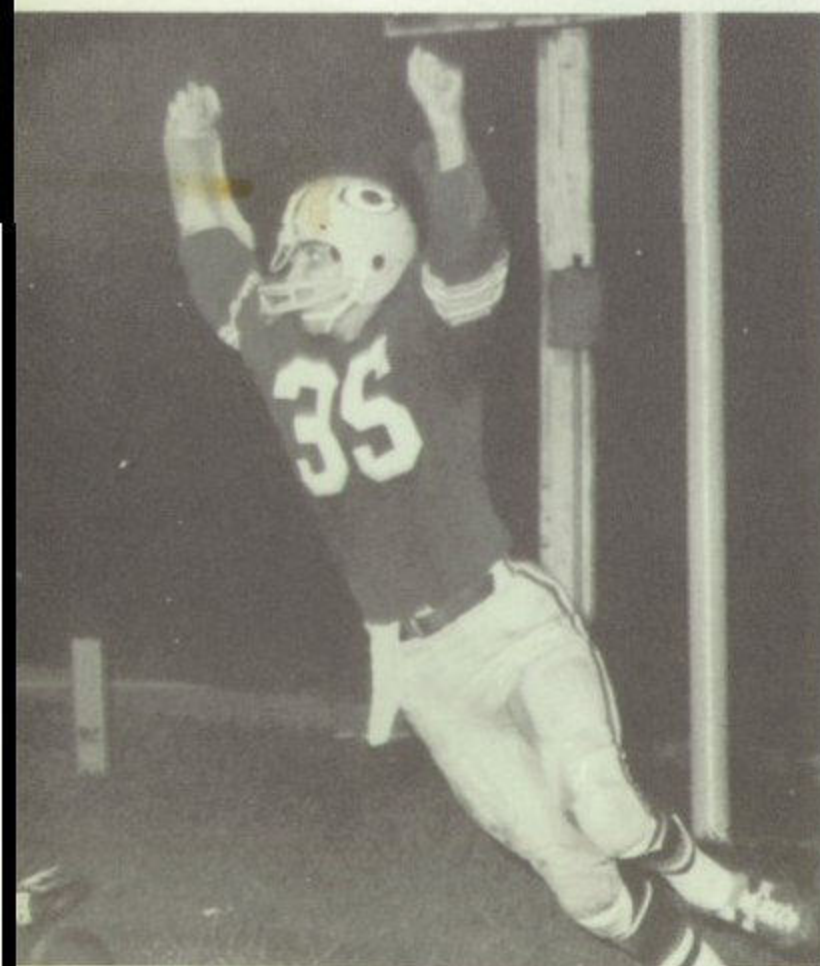

STUDENT LIFE

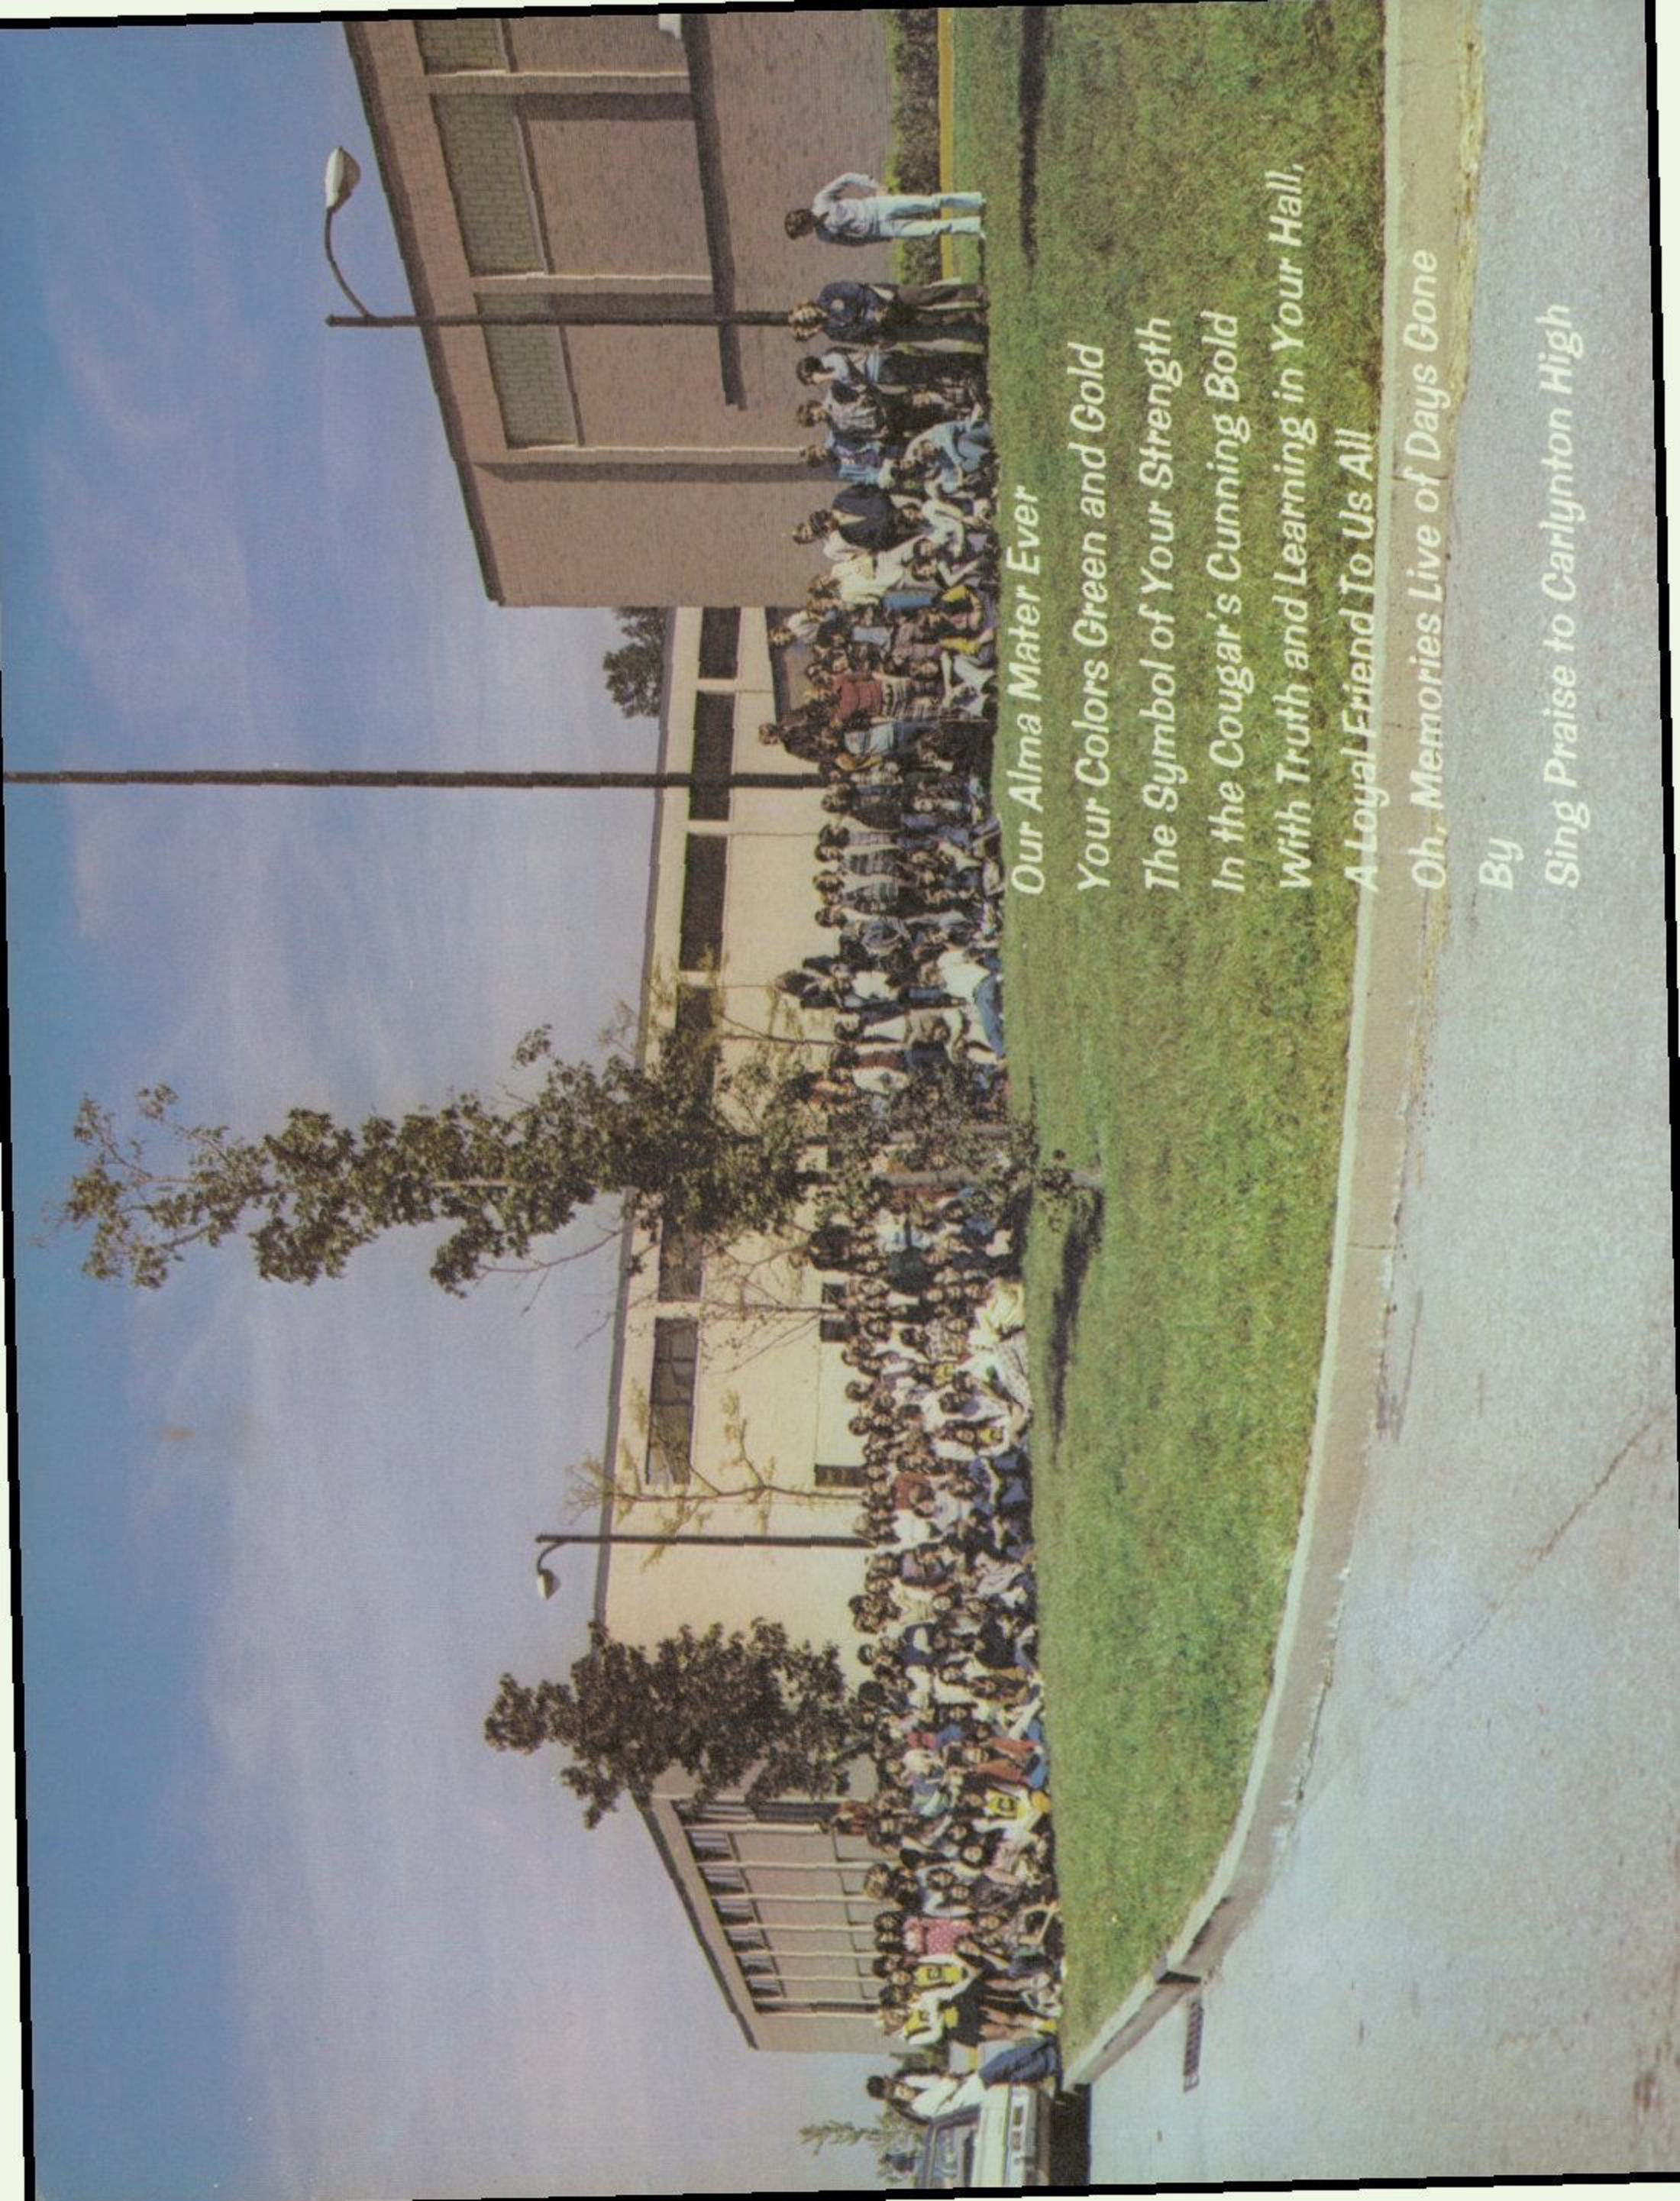

Observe, taste, touch worlds both exotic and common. For self-realization and understanding, listen not only with your ears but with your heart.

Separate the body from the mind and love is an impossible task. Understand the unity between the two and love is a natural result.

To the Class of '75

Graduation: a time of joy, an event, the end and the beginning. It is interesting how cliches have attached themselves to this symbolically transitional point in life. Such immortal phrases as; "A milestone in life," or "The gateway to adulthood," not to mention "Doorway to the future" have become synonymous for graduation. Perhaps each and all are very true, even emblematic of this moment in your life, yet they possess a very impersonal quality for such an individual experience.

Too often we become caught up in the whirlwind of activity which encompasses the occasion itself; the ceremony, parties, celebrations and emotionality seem to overshadow its meaning. Graduation is a personal experience, a collage of past events, future anxieties and emotional tumult which are yours alone. The commonality of mutual involvement creates an atmosphere of togetherness where you share these feelings, however this veil disappears in the reality of tomorrow. The spontaneous expression of dramatic triumph and personal loss fade into melancholy reminiscence. But before the events become experiences and the activities become memories, transform them into meaning, make them a part of you. Enjoy the celebration, take the step to the next milestone, and enter the doorway of tomorrow carrying with you an understanding and confidence in who and what you are. Remember and cherish what these years have brought, make them live as you become your destiny.

And so we close another chapter in Carlynton's history . . . it was a year for all of us to remember . . . as we reflect, we saw what happened, day in, day out . . .

Fabulous Fifties Revival

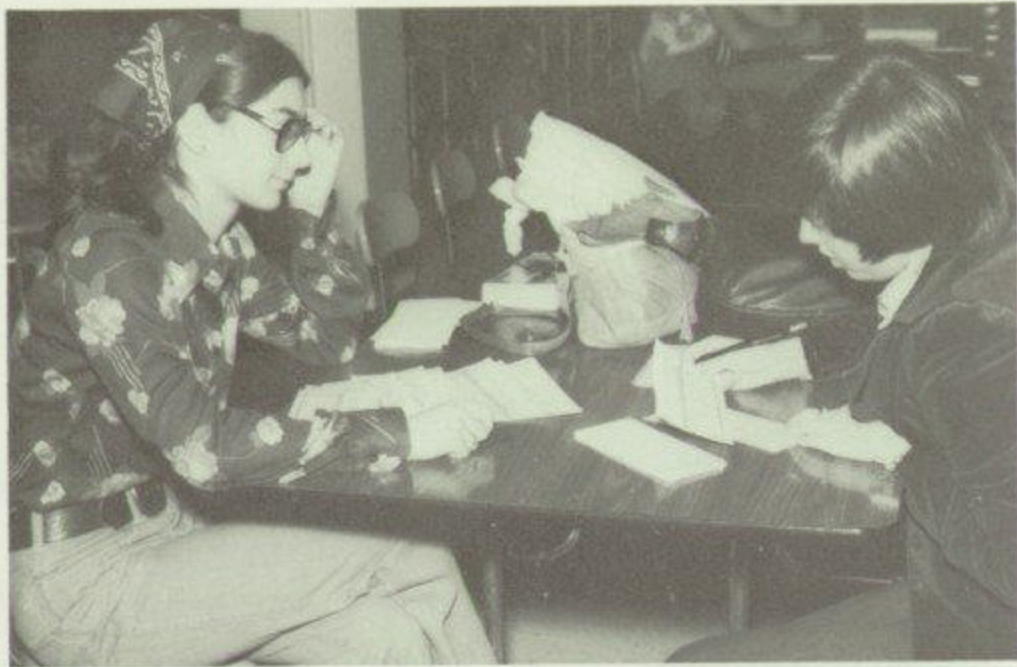

. . . lending homework . . . forgetting gym suits . . . borrowing pencils . . . being late for class . . . missing the bus . . . learning to write and solve problems . . . remembering formulas . . . and Shakespeare . . . giving a speech . . . sneaking in the lunch line . . . dropping a lunch tray . . . preparing feasts in home ec . . . creating masterpieces in art . . .

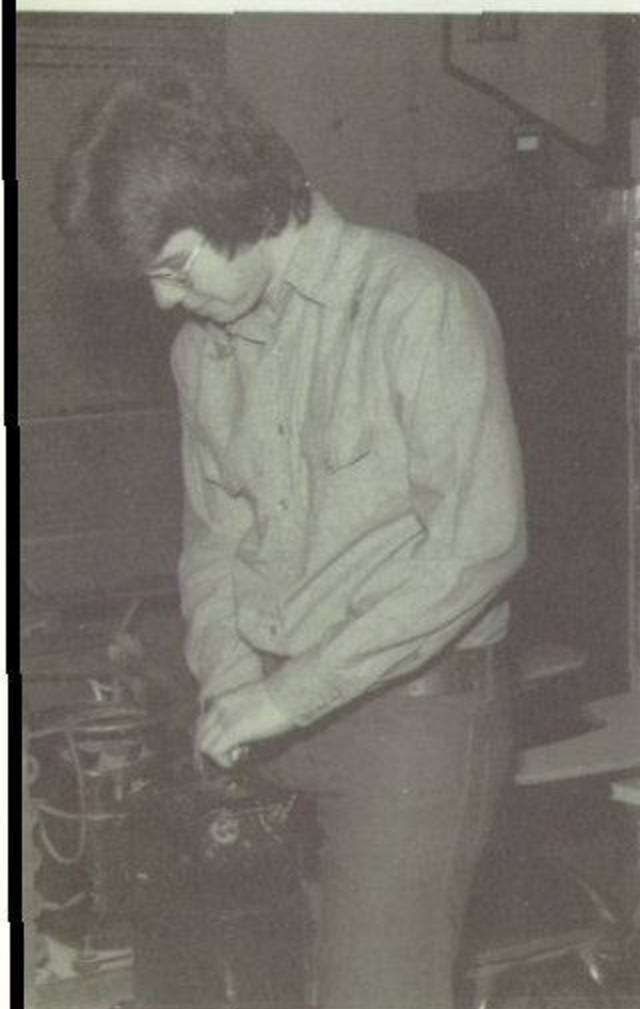

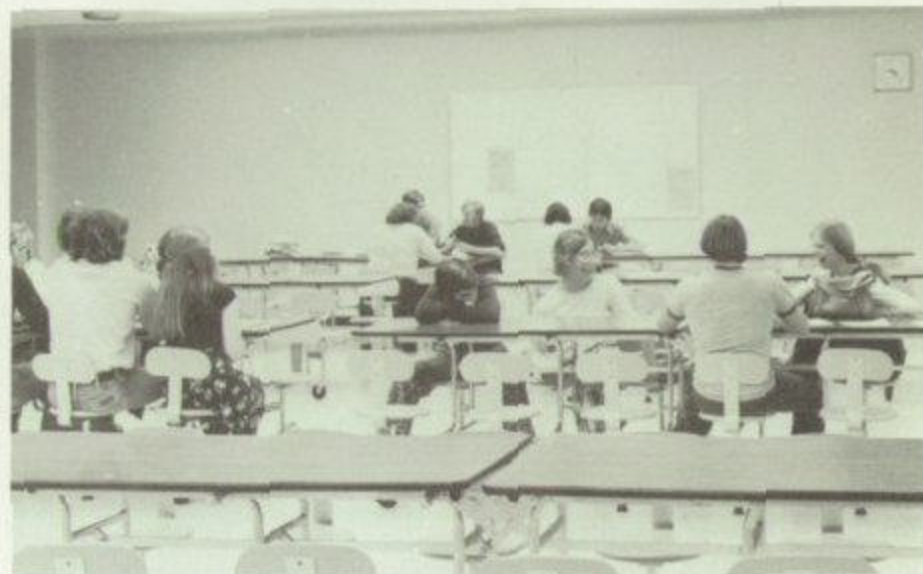

. . . but school was more than work; the cramming for exams . . . the dissecting . . . the diagramming . . . the memorizing . . . painting, talking, typing, experimenting, singing, writing and reading . . .

. . . it was also the things we did unconsciously
 . . . our learning to cope, to get along with others . . . Seniors . . . striving to be the leaders they wished to be . . . Juniors . . . trying to organize themselves into a class . . . Sophomores . . . attempts at acting grown-up . . . Freshman . . . just trying to fit in . . . fitting in, something all of us tried to do . . .

... trying to find out where we were and where we were going
 ... we worked, planned, and at times wished we were someplace else ... we went to plays and games ... and somewhere in there we learned ...

... we got by with help from friends and teachers
 ... it may have been monotonous and frustrating at times, fun at others ... but we were all there together ... trying the whole year ... to build something for ourselves as individuals ... to build a school as a group ... to establish traditions ... make a name for ourselves ... make a name for our school ... CARLYNTON.

Winged time glides on insensibly and deceives us and there is nothing more fleeting than years.

— Ovid

During the publication of this book there have been trials and tribulations, sleepless nights and drowsy days, lost pictures and pictures which were not taken. Much of what we did might have been done better by someone else or so "someone else" says. However, there was no one else who would try.

We have encountered very helpful people in the student body and the administration. Likewise, we have been forced to deal with some not so helpful.

We now would like to extend our thanks to all who helped, the administration, the faculty, Strem Studio, our photographer, Tony, Taylor Publishing Company representative, Bob Albright, Mr. Berceli, Bob, Evo, and our advertising patrons. We leave you with the book, the product of many minds and much hard work. Enjoy!

START GOING PLACES.
IN THE NAVY.

There's a lot of living out there. Things to do. Places to see. Like Hong Kong. Honolulu. Tokyo, Japan. It's a world with lots of people doing something with their lives. And many are in the Navy. If you've got what it takes, you can be one of them. You'll have a chance to see some of the world and learn something of value, too. In some of the best training programs available. If you qualify, you can choose one of over 70 career opportunities. There are openings for Communications Technicians. Electronics Technicians. Aviation Structural Mechanics. And more. You can even find out which you qualify for before you enlist. It's a good deal. And a good life. So don't just sit there. Call or talk to your local Navy recruiter today.

HERE'S YOUR DISCOUNT TICKET TO A COLLEGE EDUCATION

Sure, college expenses are going up. You can expect to pay an average of $2,000 to $4,000 a year depending on whether you choose a public or private college, a two-year or a four-year institution. And that's not cheap.

Today's Army offers financial assistance and an opportunity for the highly-motivated to complete two years of college while serving three years in the Army. And once you get out, you can complete the remaining two years by using the GI Bill.

Additional credits may be picked up by enrolling at schools on post, at nearby universities and through correspondence or extension courses. For off-duty courses taken, THE ARMY WILL PAY 75% of the cost of tuition.

When you successfully complete your enlistment, you'll get 36 MONTHS of financial assistance at the college of your choice. As a veteran with dependents YOU'LL GET $220 a month. That's nearly $8,000 for the total period. With dependents, you get even more.

If you're serious about continuing your education, today's Army is behind you.
