Holding Our Own. That's the best way to describe Carlynton High School and its students. Throughout existence, we've had years of bad attitudes, years of bad press, and years of just ... nothing. And through it all Carlynton has always managed to overcome, never letting anyone take our school pride away from us. And so, we'll just keep on Holding Our Own.

Getting Ourselves Together

STUDENT LIFE

The Student Activities section includes all the fun things Carlynton students do throughout the school year. Each year our activities keep getting better and better; this is just another example of how we are Getting It Together and Holding Our Own.

Cougar Pride
Senior Cougar Mascots Danielle Bruder and Kelley Pazzula strut their stuff for the crowd.

Keep Holding On, Guys!
Varsity football starters Bernie Holland and Nathan Ault hang out on top of the goal post instead of playing under it.

Smiling Faces

These three friends and Homecoming 1993 semi-finalists Nicole Iacono, Shannon Scott, and Julie Cornish will never forget the memories they shared together during the Homecoming weekend.

Marching On!

The Carlynton High School Cougarettes marched to Honus Wagner Field in the first annual Carlynton Homecoming Parade.

HOMECOMING 1993

Homecoming has always been a special event enjoyed by all. On the evening of October 15th, family, friends and Carlynton alumni filled Honus Wagner Stadium as the ten girls voted as this year's semi-finalists and finalists walked onto the field at halftime.

Chosen as semi-finalists were Julie Cornish, Alida Gaitens, Nicole Iacono, Tracey McDermott and Shannon Scott. The five finalists, Mandy Chieffe, Adriane Longo, Kelly Mangum, Erica Rost and Joann Supinsky were introduced and lined up on the field with their escorts. Erica Rost was announced as Carlynton's 1993-94 Homecoming Queen.

The dance, held on October 16th, was a huge success as well. With the cafeteria decorated for the occasion, everyone agreed it was an enchanting evening.

A special thanks is to be extended to Mrs. Petronsky and the Junior Class. Congratulations to Erica Rost and her court! I hope your years at CHS were all you expected them to be.

DRESS-UP DAY

Well, the big day is coming up. No not Christmas or your birthday. Here's a hint: It's the most stressful work of your senior year. Give up? It's Senior Dress-Up Day, and with it comes the terrible stress of finding a costume.

Now it has been a few years since your last Trick-or-Treating escapade, so not many (if any) of your old costumes fit. About a week before Dress-Up Day you start looking around the house, lurking in closets, peeping in attics, and going through drawers, searching for the perfect disguise. No luck. You're looking for just the right get-up, into it but not too much into it. The night before you get real desperate, so you start calling everyone you know, aunts, uncles, neighbors, etc.) looking to see what ideas they could possibly come up with out of all their old junk. Finally, the day arrives. You have come up with a completely unique, one of a kind costume. You get to school and there are three more people dressed just like you.

Whether or not this has or will ever happen to you, everyone should give it their best effort to dress up on Senior Dress-Up Day. Not only does it pull your senior class closer together, but it's a lot of fun too.
-Nicole Iacono

Yahtzee, Anyone?

Lee Costa and Kelly Steiner are on a roll on Senior Dress-Up Day. Stay away from Las Vegas, girls!

Pumpkins and Bees

Such A Cute Bunch

These guy cheerleaders mellow out after a difficult routine and see what's going on.

SENIOR PEP RALLY

Pep rallies are pep rallies, not a bad time, and definitely worth getting out of class for. The Senior Pep Rally is also a change of pace from the average pep rally. It is a chance for the underclassmen to get to see the senior class making fools of themselves.

The week before the pep rally, the senior class goes around consulting with friends, checking with the cheerleaders, getting football jerseys and deciding what to be. Practices are scheduled and routines are made up. Each class tries to outdo the class from the year before. And finally, who is doing the senior speeches?

Basically, no one can appreciate the Senior Pep Rally fully, not teachers, parents or underclassmen, until it is your turn and you get to do it yourselves ... and realize how close you really are to the end.

-Nicole Iacono

Deep Thoughts

Seniors Amanda Schmidt and Katie Spadaro reminisce as they sit among their classmates and listen to the sights and sounds.

Beauty School Drop-Out

Cheerleader gone to football manager and basketballer gone to cheerleader, Julie Cornish takes lots of care to make Dave Thal just as pretty as he can be.

Powder Puff Fighting Cougar League

The senior girls this year were very active in the pep rally festivities. These gorgeous gals look like they could really do some damage as the Lady Cougar Football Team.

Navy Blue And Gold

Tons of beautiful decorations made in the senior class colors filled the football stadium.

Great Season #10

On and off the field, Eric Smith is supported by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

Pretty Kitties!

Senior cougar mascots, Chiana Clark and Jodi Leipold smile cheerfully, content with the night's festivities.

Run, Lee, Run

On Senior Night, the Cougars give it their best for one last game.

Get Ready For That Ball

Senior lineman Bernie Holland warms up before the game. Good Luck!

SENIOR NIGHT

When you are underclassmen you never imagine the day will come when you have to deal with doing something for the last time. Anything from the last time you perform at half time on the field, to cheering in the freezing cold, being a silly old mascot, to suiting up and playing that last big game. As the seniors you have been expected to show your courage and strength and lead the way by setting the example.

Senior Night is a time to reflect with family and friends on all the time, effort and hard work you put into your specific activity. It is a time when the people closest to you stand behind you and show they care.

Words of advice that can be given to any underclassmen in any organization are just this, work hard, listen closely, and keep that winning Cougar spirit alive. Your turn will be here before you know it!

-Nicole Iacono

Senior Bonfire

The Carlynton baseball field was aglow on Thursday Oct. 28th, when the Senior Bonfire took place to honor the senior athletes. Many Seniors as well as underclassmen joined in to make this night special. There were routines and songs from the cheerleaders and jokes from the football team and Coach Webster. The Cougar mascots, Jodi and Chiana, led the fun and then passed around the megaphone so everyone could reminisce. Everyone had a good time and the memories will last forever.

Hot Days

Three Crafton Pool regulars during the summer, Tracy Wenger, Whisper Hartz, and Emily Adair never miss a chance to be in the sun.

Summer '93

Summer is a time that most students look forward to. It's a time of having fun, being with your friends, getting tan, and going to parties, basically, just going crazy! Summer is a time of relaxation. During the summer, you don't have to worry about getting up early, doing homework, and studying for an upcoming test. For the teachers summer is a time of getting away from their obnoxious students.

For most people the best part of summer is vacation. Even though spending time at home with your friends is fun, it's also fun getting to go away to somewhere new and meeting new people.

The best part of summer for me is the time right before school starts. When everyone is talking about their new teachers and classes, school shopping, and about going back to the usual routine.

Summer is the only time of the year when you can really enjoy yourself, and still know that next year it will come again ...

-Emily Adair

Laundry Day?

PEOPLE WHAT THE FUTURE HOLDS

At Carlynton, What the Future Has To Hold obviously means success. Underclassmen as well as upperclassmen give all they do their best. The senior high sets the example for the junior high to follow, helping them to hold their own.

A Tight Squeeze

Studly Cougars

Mock mascots for the day, seniors Ben Bogats and Lee Dreshman strutted their stuff and rocked the crowd at the senior pep rally.

Junior Pride

Though the name Junior Class Officers seems like just a title, there is a lot more work in it than may appear. Elected in the last month of their sophomore year, President Michael DeFonso, Vice President Jackie Urso, Secretary Meghan Rogers and Treasurer Michael Mattei, with the help of sponsor Mrs. Petronsky, started early in the summer months in search of this year's prom site. Brainstorming for fundraisers took up the rest of their summer planning, when finally the Homecoming festivities rolled around. Ballots were printed, bulletin boards and programs were designed and decorations were bought. With the help of an excellent Junior Class Committee, the officers tackled the field as well as the high school cafeteria, only to make Homecoming 1993 a huge success. On behalf of the Eleventh grade, Santa Claus visited CHS during the holiday season. The rest of the winter season was spent fundraising and planning for Prom 1994. In closing I'd like to thank my fellow officers, former officers for their advice, and Mrs. Petronsky for all the great ideas and planning. Hopefully we made this year a successful one!

-Meghan Rogers

Getting Ready

by Rebecca Lee

Our junior year is one that we will always remember. It is full of choices, between college, starting that new job or making time in your schedule to attend the football games.

As we see the senior class going through all the senior rituals, such as Dress-Up Day and the Pep Rally, we begin to realize how close we are to the end. Our turn to be seniors almost becomes real.

This year, we have learned how to live for every moment and not waste a second of our time together. Whether it be Chi-Chi's or Taco Bell after the game or a party, we try to stretch the time we have left. Our class always seems to stick together, and this year we've become even closer to the senior class. The kind of bond we have with them makes us reflect and realize we are already in their shoes come graduation day, and even with all the memories we have made, next year there will be even more.

T imes Change

by Nicole Iacono

A sophomore year brings about many changes. Throughout the course of the year many different things may happen. You go from having crushes to loves, you go from having mom and dad drive you and your friends to the movies to cruisin' Carnegie and Crafton on your own and of course you go from Fouled Up Freshmen to Silly Sophomores and move up the social ladder at Carlynton.

Academically, your sophomore year is one of your easiest. This helps leave you a lot more free time to hang out with your friends, get more involved with school activities and become closer friends with upperclassmen. As a sophomore, you should take it upon yourself to make sure you're not overlooked at CHS.

Overall, your 10th grade year is an important one and can be an awful lot of fun if you put all you've got into it.

Freshmen Now!

by Emily Adair

Our 9th grade year is supposed to be a very important year for us. This is the year when we start getting credits, our grades start going into our file to be looked at later on in our high school years and it's our first year of having a student council. We start getting accepted as part of the high school, and finally we have our own title!

To the upperclassmen the Freshmen don't seem very important, but all through the years we've worked hard and done things that make us special.

Ninth grade is one of the hardest grades in high school. It takes determination and dedication to get good grades, but this year we can be accepted at more dances, more sports, more clubs, and more academic activities.

This year we're gonna make a difference. Watch out! We're big, bad Freshmen now!!

"Exhausted," says Mr. Smith after this year's events with the High Student Council. The students keeping Mr. Smith busy were his four officers: President Shara Vales, Vice President Chris Krenke, Secretary, Casey Witwicki and Treasurer, Jessica Harding. They first started off the year with the annual Christmas Dance that lit up the cafeteria with the Christmas spirit, and if you were lucky you might have gotten stuck under the mistletoe! But don't forget the famous Data Match. CHS students filled out forms to find out who they were most compatible with in school. As the year continued they planned a big Valentine's Day dance. Next came the Rockin' Oldies Dance. Everyone rocked around the clock until it was time to go home. Then last but not least, the traditional Spring Queen Dance, which was enjoyed by all. This year turned out to be an exciting one for all students, homeroom representatives and officers. Mr. Smith hopes future officers will do the same.

The 8th grade is a class of brains, goof offs, teachers' pets, and all the other categories one can be. Just like any other grade.

But we have changed a lot in the time we have been at the high school. We've gone from cracking jokes about our Science teacher last year, to staring at our English teacher this year.

We're an athletic class. At last our junior high football team is shaping up. Katie Rynn is leading the girls' basketball team to a decent year. As for the boys' basketball, we haven't started yet, but I see another 16-0 year. As for our grade: well we're probably not the smartest kids to pass through 8th grade, but we're certainly starting to realize that it's not going to get any easier.

So instead of categorizing all the students as something, I'm just hoping for a good year. And it looks like it's going to be one.

Look hard! Don't miss your bus Nick Dunmyer!

Being a seventh grader at the high school is better than being at the elementary school because you get to be with the "Big Kids." There are so many more activities going on at high school. You have the privilege to join clubs, for example, the swimming or drama club. At the cafeteria they sell lunches every day and the food is o.k. The vending room gives a variety of pop, chips, doughnuts, and other snack foods. You can look forward to Friday nights if there is a home football game. Studyhalls are great arrive home. The teachers treat you more grown-up and give you responsibilities. On the buses you can meet interesting people. Thinking back on the first day and how nervous I was, I realize how happy I am at the high school.

Inspiring Efforts

by Dana Witwicki

When you think of teachers, the first thing that comes to mind is the long hours of grueling homework that take up your free time and ruin your social life. It seems like a cruel punishment, but teachers care about us and work their hardest to help make our lives a success. Teachers must continually have a positive attitude and patience because working with students can be stressful.

Many students don't realize the great responsibility teachers have in preparing us for our future. They seldom recognize the fact Carlynton has an extremely dedicated faculty. Many spend hours of their own time planning interesting lessons, organizing field trips, and becoming involved with the students. So next time you find yourself with an overwhelming workload, remember there is a purpose to everything we are taught. In the future, we will be thankful to all the efforts of the teachers who have inspired us.

Catch Us If You Can

SPORTS

Athletics, despite everything, always excel at Carlynton. Athletes know what it takes to measure up to the standards our sports teams have set in previous years. They all seem to scream Catch Us If You Can.

Smiles From The Soccer Team

The Girls' Varsity Soccer Team, on the way to an away game, enjoys the little time left in the season together.

Showing Some Spirit

Waiting For The Rebound

Varsity basketball players Mike Dukes, Jason Daschbach, Mike DeFonso and Ryan Hoover warm up before a big game to calm their nerves.

Keep Your Eye On The Ball

New coming senior, Shannon Sheeler keeps her eye on the ball as she waits for the rebound.

Football Cougars

In this 1993 football season, under Coach Ernie Webster, the Fighting Cougars tried hard to overcome adversities, and worked diligently to improve their past record and game performance.

Though times were tough and the Carlynton Cougars were struck by a tough defeat more than once, these boys didn't quit. With practices every day and homework every night, dedication was the key word.

The next few years will be a time for rebuilding the strength of the CHS Football team, due to the loss of many older, more experienced players, but with enough student support and participation, the Cougars will once again, someday be in the winner's bracket.

-Meghan Rogers

Football Cougars

Since the Junior High Cougar Football team ended their season with a 2-1-2 record, they are anxious to see what the future has in store for them. The seventh graders are looking to lead the team next year, since they now have a year's worth of higher level ball under their belts. The eighth graders have their sights set on Varsity.

This year's team had many returning players. These players reflected the overall record. They took charge in crucial situations and picked up the slack. All the boys put in a good year's worth of work, got along together and enjoyed this year's season. The boys learned teamwork, dedication, and discipline. Since they had all these factors, they had a successful and memorable season. At all times, these fine players demonstrated a growing Cougar Pride.

-Toni Thal

SOCCER Cougars

The boys' Varsity Soccer team had yet another successful season. Captains Tom Dlugos and Greg Furlan led the talented team to the WPIAL quarter-finals and a 16-6-1 finish, despite tough opposition.

The squad had an explosive offense, which featured Jason Masko, the WPIAL's No. 2 scorer and Carlynton's all-time leading goal scorer. The defense, led by senior sweeper Tom Dlugos and junior stopper Mike DeFonso, was steadfast too, allowing only 30 goals in 23 games.

The team was comprised of quality athletes who worked hard and dedicated themselves to uphold the reputation of Carlynton soccer. The crew finished second only behind an accomplished Sewickley Academy team, which the Cougars had beaten to give them their only defeat of the season. Carlynton made it to the WPIAL playoffs for the fourth time in five years. Their first game was against a section champion Riverside team. After they slaughtered the Riversiders 7-0, they played a fine East Allegheny team. This was the second time these teams met in as many years; they lost a hard-fought match 4-3.

Several players were rewarded for their excellent play by being named to the section's Finest 15, including seniors Tom Dlugos and Brandon Bogden, and juniors Mike DeFonso, Mike Zinski and Jason Masko. Two players were further distinguished by their selection to the Post-Gazette West All-Star Team — Jason Masko and Mike DeFonso.

Some feel that next year is the year, since the contingent was predominantly juniors. Carlynton soccer seems to be a dynasty. With that, Carlynton is starting to make a name for itself in another major sport, soccer. - Mike DeFonso

Lady Cougars

It was a 90-degree day when girls of the 1993 Lady Cougars' soccer team gathered on the Honus Wagner field for their first practice. This was an exciting day for many, displaying what the season had to hold. The year was definitely significant.

The Lady Cougars were also very successful this year, finishing up their season with a record of 16-3-1. Contributing to this success were Junior Brooke Mangis, who made ALL WPIAL and ALL SECTION, also Senior Lee Costa, who earned ALL SECTION, all outstanding accomplishments. This success wasn't from a stroke of Irish Luck: The team possesses true talent. From day one, the girls realized that the season would be one that called for dedication. This strong dedication was proven various times throughout the season, especially during the six-hour-long practices on those hot summer days!

In response to a question about what Senior Dallas Trombetta thought was the toughest part of being captain, she replied in earnest, "There was none. The girls made my job very easy." Co-Captains Lee Costa and Brooke Mangis agree. Another player, freshman Casey Witwicki, said, "My favorite memory was when the team beat Canon Mac for the first time in several years."

A goal was achieved when the girls made the play-offs. Unfortunately, they lost to Quaker Valley in the first round, despite their efforts.

All in all, the Lady Cougars expressed great team spirit and organization.

Golf Cougars

This fall the Carlynton Golf Team was back on the greens, along with coach Mrs. Cumo. The 1993-94 season is Carlynton's second year in the sport of golf and is still going strong.

Though practices were light, matches were serious stuff. All of the players strove to play their best each match, but as with all sports, every team has its on and off days. The Cougars, over the past two years, have taken on more experienced and developed teams, but have still held their own.

With the entire roster returning, the Carlynton Cougar Golf team is sure to prove to be on top. The new team has shown that nothing is impossible at Carlynton!

Bowling Cougars

With the introduction of bowling to the Carlynton sports program, I, for one, am quite excited. This new team of inspired and dedicated bowlers is sure to improve and catch on throughout the entire district. This new beginning has also been able to spark some additional school spirit in many students, while encouraging those of us interested to press for more sports that have been long awaited here at Carlynton, such as volleyball and cross-country. The Bowling Team at Carlynton holds promise for the future, starting this year off with our fair share of wins. I've really enjoyed my bowling experience this year, and I encourage anyone interested to join us for next year's season. If you enjoy having a great time with great people and can be dedicated while enjoying yourself, this is the team for you. So come on out next year, all are welcome, and you gonna like it!

Lady Cougars

As tennis practices began in the hot August sun, Coach Vogt saw the talent of this year's players and the possibility of going to playoffs. The season began with a successful start and the girls had high hopes. Although Mr. Vogt was nursing a pulled tendon, he did a fine job coaching. He noted, "I saw a continuous improvement in the girls' skills and technique throughout the season." The girls had some trouble toward the end of the season and lost a few key matches, only a few months away from the playoffs. Some of the girls also participated in section singles and section doubles.

Mr. Vogt feels confident that with no one on the team graduating, it should be even stronger next year.

Cheerleading

Lady Cougars

Cheerleading is a big part of our extracurricular activities at Carlynton. Almost every sport that we take part in has a group of cheerleaders on the sidelines. Cheerleaders are supposed to be spirit leaders. During games they cheer the teams on and provide entertainment for the crowd during quarters and half-time.

Some consider it a sport, some don't. Either way it's still an activity that many girls enjoy each year. We have three squads in our school, the seventh grade squad, J. V., and Varsity. All work hard at every game to entertain and keep your spirits alive.

-Emily Adair

BASKETBALL Lady Cougars

Through many complications this year the Lady Cougars of Carlynton still seemed to pull through.

The girls lost three of their 1992-'93 starters, leaving Julie Bonner and Melissa Charles to help lead the team. Replacing the graduating seniors were a variety of players. With a lot of talent Coach Mike McConnell had a lot to choose from. They included Shannon Caliguire, a transfer from Montour, as well as, Nicole Iacono, Jessica Schaeffer, Roslyn Zemon, Renee Rimkus, Jerimaine Ward, and Jennifer Schulz.

Injuries played a major role in their season. With Melissa Charles out over half the year, as well as Julie Bonner, Shannon Caliguire, Nicole Iacono, and Renee Rimkus out at different times this season, the remaining Lady Cougars had many obstacles to overcome.

The younger, less experienced, portion of the team had to see a lot of playing time. This experience was invaluable to the future of the program. Despite all this adversity, the team played inspired each and every night.

The '93-'94 Lady Cougar Basketball Team was a very close-knit team. The girls went through so much together and spent so much time together that in addition to having a great season, they have become sisters.

Lady Cougars

This year's Junior High season was a memorable one. After a 1-4 start, the girls rallied together, never letting down, and strived to be the best. They came back to end their season with a record of 10 wins and only 5 losses.

One of their biggest wins, and the start of a nine game winning streak, was their victory over West Allegheny by a score of 41-23. This was the team's turning point.

This young team promises great things for the future of Lady Cougar basketball. Many of this year's starters will be incredible assets to next year's JV and Varsity teams.

The junior high girls' basketball team learned an important lesson this season. If you give something everything you've got, in the end it will pay off. Great season, Girls!

Cougars

Basketball was found to be a whole new game for the 7th and 8th graders of Carlynton High School. The transition from playing against your friends in elementary school to playing other schools was a tough one. Practices were more difficult, competition was intense and playing required a lot more ability. Not everyone got to play anymore. Carlynton's 7th grade boys' basketball team adjusted to its new situation with spirit. The team showed dedication in its work. Each individual player noticed the improvements from the Cougar Midget League. Hopefully their improvements will continue to live up to the excellent CHS Basketball program.

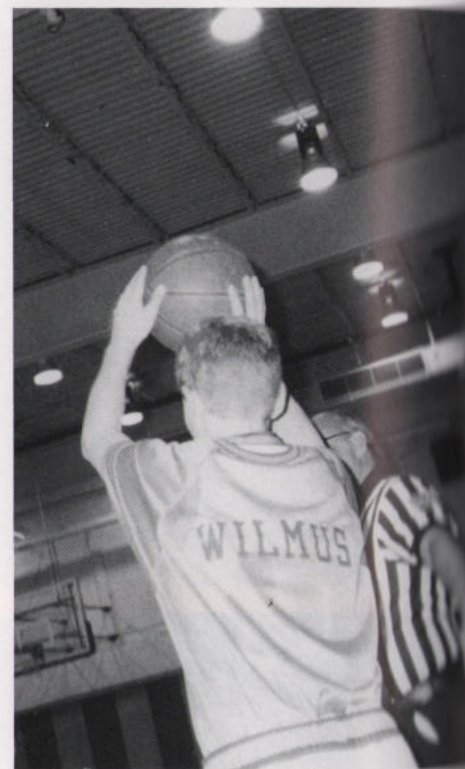

The 8th grade boys' basketball team has already been through its period of adjustment. Little did they know, there was more to come. In their 7th grade year these boys dominated. They still do, but everyone is getting better along with them. As they're getting older the competition is getting more intense. They have a bright future to look forward to.

Both 7th and 8th grade boys' basketball teams have shown tremendous talent. The Carlynton basketball tradition will live on.

Cougars

At the end of this year's ninth grade basketball season the freshmen boys anticipated next season. Next season brings their first varsity basketball opportunity, and as any Cougar can tell you, these are big paws to fill.

This 1993-94 season the ninth grade basketball team, coached by Craig Sonson, showed how well it has developed since its start in seventh grade, although most played in the Midget Cougar Program. These boys have shown that they know that hard practices and dedication equal accomplishment. These freshmen have overcome many difficulties to get to where they are. Next year they will be taking the places of the graduating seniors as well as the sophomores and juniors who will move up from JV to Varsity. We'll all be looking forward to watching you every Tuesday and Friday! Good luck in your future, and, as you know, you have much expected of you.

Varsity Boys' Basketball

After losing all their starters last year, the Carlynton Cougars Boys' Basketball team was back for more. Starting for the Cougars were senior Sonny Peterson, juniors Brian Francis and Mike Zinski and sophomores Tom Butts and Ryan Hoover. The whole team contributed to this year's winning program. These varsity players, headed by Rich Sonson and assistant coach Joel Vanucci, have shown what the word teamwork really means. A spectacular display of their skills was shown in each and every game. Contributing to the game and receiving a good amount of playing time are senior Jason Daschbach, juniors Mike DeFonso, Pat Mulholland, Adam Rohe, and Tom Wilson. This entire team has followed in the tradition of Cougar Basketball excellence. Congratulations on a great season of hard work and dedication. Good luck to next year's team and the graduating seniors.

SWIMMING

Cougars

The 1993-1994 Carlynton boys' and girls' swim season brought along many new and talented swimmers. Over half of the team consisted of freshmen or first year swimmers who had to adjust to the rigorous and exhausting practice schedule. Another newcomer was assistant coach Mr. Banaszak, who along with Mr. Vogt did an excellent job pushing the swimmers throughout the season.

Along with an increase in participants was an increase in the team's confidence. Mr. Vogt saw more dedication in this year's team and predicted a brighter outcome than ever before for his team. The swimmers improved steadily as everyone had hoped.

With so many young swimmers, the future is looking bright for the Carlynton Swim Team. Swimming against mostly larger schools has always presented the team with a difficult challenge. But if next year's freshmen are as enthusiastic and great in numbers as this year's, Carlynton's swimmers will be well prepared to meet the challenge.

Nights To Remember

Senior Night can be one of the most memorable nights for a Carlynton senior. Whether they were on the court, in the water, or on the field, 1993-94 Seniors were ones to be proud of.

The Senior Nights of 1993-94 were very emotional times for some athletes. At these occasions seniors are escorted by their parents to be recognized for their efforts. Names and accomplishments are announced, flowers are given and snapshots are taken. Seniors begin to realize that this is the last home game they will ever play. As you can see, a night such as this can be hard to forget.

A special congratulations is extended to all senior athletes of the graduating class of 1994. Their efforts have been amazing and their dedication and abilities are an inspiration to us all.

Special Sports Awards

Girls' Soccer All Stars

Senior Lee Costa and Junior Brooke Mangis were selected as Section All Stars. Robyn Wholey, Dallas Trombetta, Heidi Cochran and Sara Fording were selected for Honorable Mention as Section All Stars.

Boys' Soccer Section All Stars

Jason Masko, Tom Dlugos, Mike DeFonso and Mike Zinski were selected as Section All Stars. Our boys' soccer team was one of the two teams to have the most players picked.

WPIAL All-Stars

Juniors Jason Masko and Michael DeFonso were also named to the 1993 WPIAL All-Stars list.

Quite A Little Kicker

In addition to her many outside soccer teams, junior Brooke Mangis was named to the WPIAL All-Stars list for her outstanding efforts throughout her season.

Quarterback Attack

Senior Eric Smith was honored this year as a Three Rivers Conference All-Star at outside runningback. He was also chosen as a Signal Item All-Star for offense. Eric had a great senior year.

Super Lady Hoopers

Senior Melissa Charles and Sophomore Julie Bonner were both selected as the Pittsburgh Post Gazette Player of the Week for their sensational games. In addition to this honor Melissa was also second on the Post Gazette's Top Scorers list all season despite being out for injuries. This season Melissa was inducted to the Lady Cougars 1000 Point Club. Great season girls!

Carlynton's Finest

Junior Brian Francis and Senior Sonny Peterson both have reasons to smile from ear to ear. Brian holds a spot on the Pittsburgh Post Gazette's Top WPIAL Scorers list. Sonny broke the school record for the most blocked shots in a season with more than 90.

Best Of The Best ACADEMICS

This year as always, Carlynton's academics are leading the way to success. Teachers and students are working together to increase our Cougar output. In the classroom as well as at academic competitions, we are Holding A Place Among The Best.

Working Hard, Ladies?

Freshmen Jamie Walnoha, Angela Mazzoni, and Casey Witwicki sit in the library for study hall, hurrying to get all their homework finished before the bell rings.

Caught Ya, Ann!

As an underclasswoman, Ann Zinski loves Carlynton and its lavishly painted halls, and can't wait to get here every morning, as you can tell.

Wake Up Sleepyhead!

Junior Alicia Romano displays her favorite part of class ... the part she's not awake for.

You're Nuts!

Wild and crazy guy, Jordan Mueller is having fun and laughing it up in class. Watch out for the teacher, Jordan!

Math Talk

As they wait for the bell to ring, Dana Witwicki, Sarah Ford-ing and Robyn Wholey discuss math class.

Working Hard

The seventh grade Math class is working hard as they find a little time to help each other.

Exam Day

Mr. Gearing watches over his eleventh grade Algebra class as they take a short quiz.

Adding Things Up

From Pre-Algebra to calculus, Math has always been a part of our day. You may enjoy or dread Math, but either way you need it to get by.

With Mr. Dalby as the head of the Mathematics Department, this program is strong at all levels. The dedicated teachers help you out when there's a problem and challenge your mind when you least expect it.

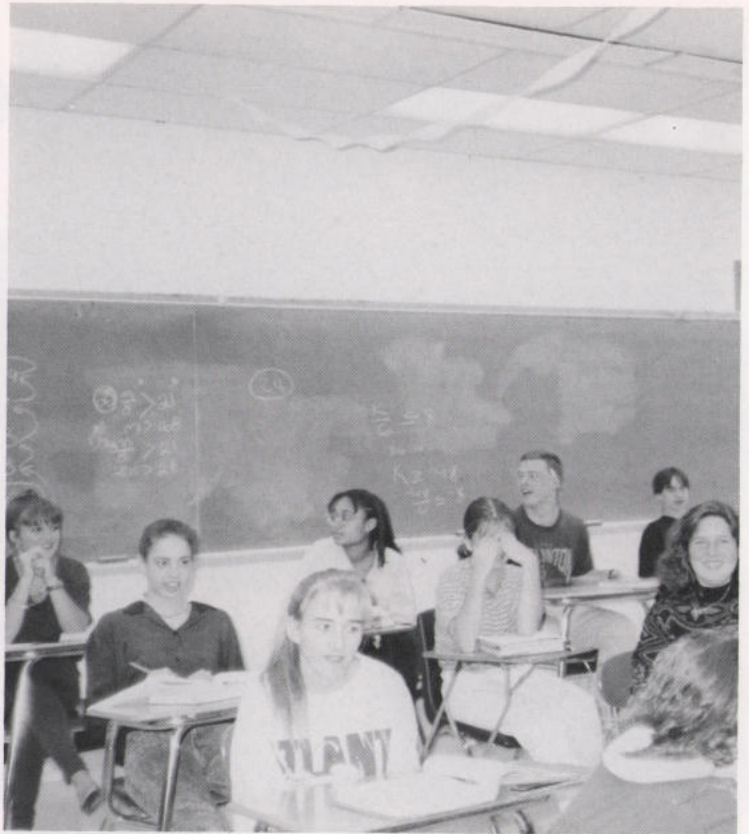

I happen to enjoy my Math experience here at Carlynton. But some students really don't see the reasons behind why we are taught so much Math that they think we will never use. So to prove a very important point, my Trigonometry teacher, Mr. Jones, has an extra credit assignment which involves sending letters to someone that holds an occupation that you're interested in and asking them how they use Math in their particular job. This helps student better understand the importance of Math in day-to-day activities.

-Rebecca Lee

Bored As Heck

Bond Davis tries to stay awake for the rest of his Math class, but it doesn't look like he's gonna make it.

Restless In Class

The ninth grade Math class sits restlessly as they wait for that bell to ring.

Teacher Power

Mr. Dalby is caught up in mathematics alright, as he instructs his Geometry I students to the best of his ability.

Bonner Power

Mr. Bonner assists Jamie Conley as he asks for some assistance in helping with some of his Math.

Science

Group action!!!!!!

Juniors Erika McClosky, Dana Salmen and Mike Rynn study hard as they go over some Chem. 1 work together.

Baffled

Mr. Saunders oversees his class as he gets ready to show them a movie.

Chem It Up!!!

Mr. Cochran assists Leigh Mahofski with a few complicated problems.

Physics Works For Them

Students take the time to learn all there is to know about the class.

Plant Attack

Sam Price and Chiana Clark spend their time watering the plants that they grew in A.P. Biology class.

Full of Smiles

Classmates Sonny Peterson and Leishawn Wood catch up on the latest news in class.

Cam It Up!!!

Mr. Bricklemeyer passes out some of the latest papers as Katie Rynn waits impatiently for hers.

Science

A wave of new technology has swept over Carlynton's Science department. From force probes to Macintosh Computers, students now have the opportunity to work with advanced and expensive equipment in their experiments. Along with this new technology comes our technology coordinator, Mr. Peterson. If a problem should ever arise, he will know what to do.

A wide variety of excellent Science courses are offered at Carlynton including Biology, Chemistry, Earth Science, Meteorology/Oceanography, and Physics.

Each year the A.P. Biology class gets to do some unusual things. They take a trip to Jennings Nature Reserve and they also dissect cats. Chemistry students can often be found working bunsen burners and various compounds in the lab. In Earth and Space Science class students learn about the solar system and how the Earth was formed. Physics students use the computers to discover why and how things work.

Altogether, Carlynton has an excellent Science Department with many opportunities for students. With the inspirational lessons of our talented Science teachers, we are well prepared for a career in Science.

Senior English

A group of seniors, thrilled to be in English, pay close attention in hopes of passing.

English Mrs. Yahr

English seems to be an exciting class for all as a group of freshmen read from the text.

English 8th grade

Two eighth grade students, hard at work, patiently wait to see if they've passed the test.

Grammatically Correct

We use English every minute of our lives even though we don't realize it. Without it we would not be able to read, write, spell, or even talk.

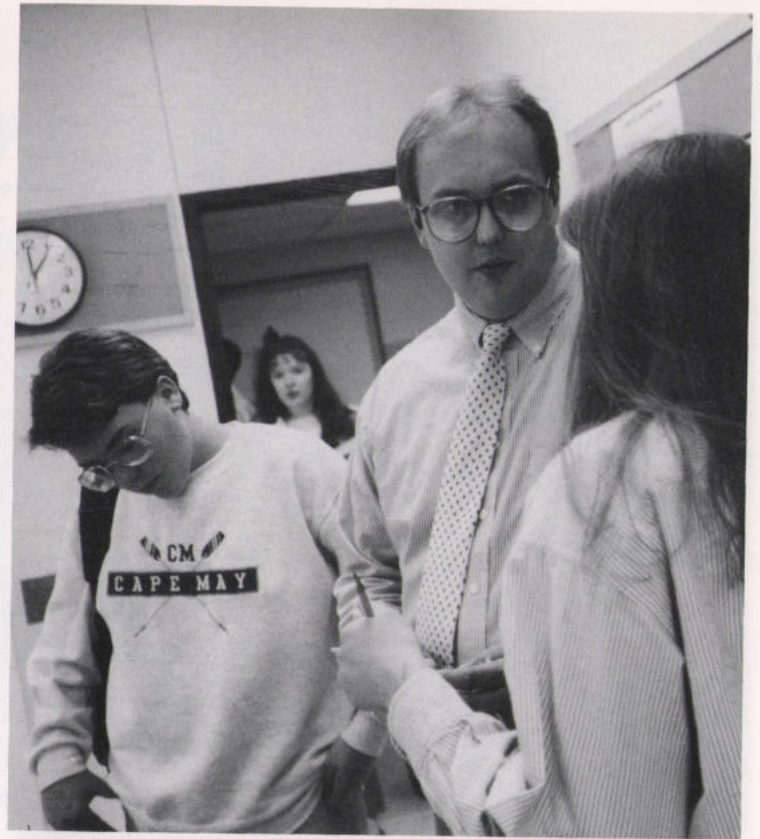

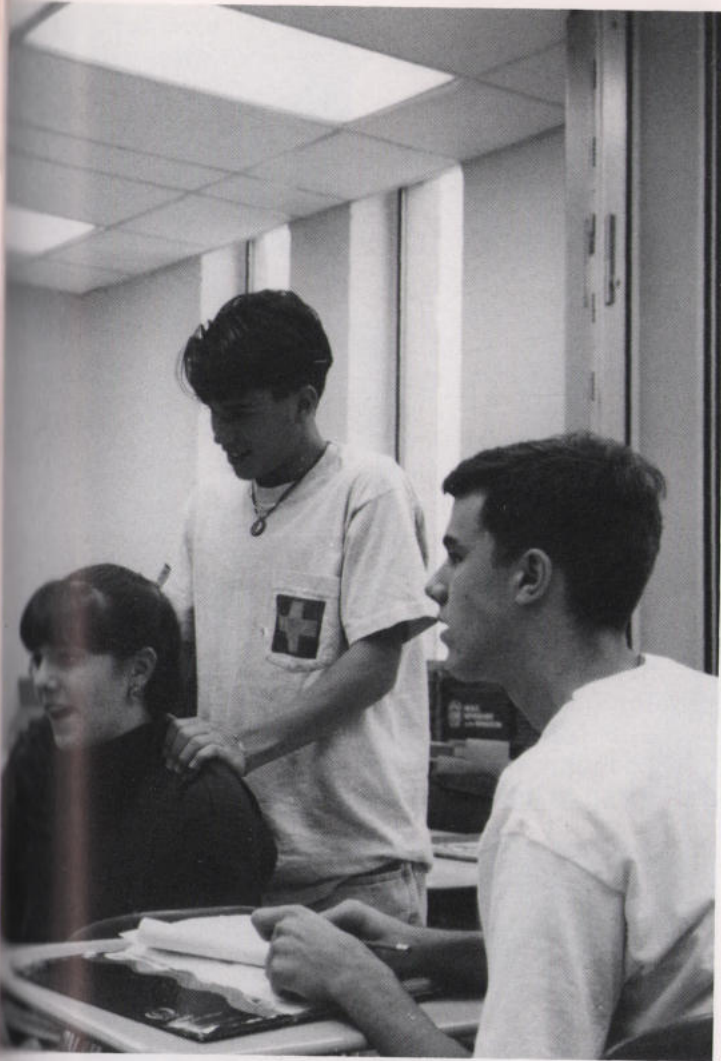

This year the Carlynton High School English department consists of Miss Carroll, Mrs. Yahr, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Petronsky, and Mr. McAdoo. All of them teach in a different way, but all the different ways are made creative and exciting. Sometimes English isn't all fun and games, such as staying up all night long writing a five page essay that was due the day before, or reading that 400-page novel. Through all this, in the end English will pay off no matter if you're becoming a writer or a mechanic. English will be well worth it!

-Rebecca Lee

Junior English

Nice guy Michael Mattei uses his hands to give fellow classmate Jackie Urso a hand with her shoulders.

Hangin' Around

A few students wait around after class to ask Mr. McAdoo for some assistance in English.

Story Time

Mrs. Petronsky takes the time to join the students in the readings of "Death of a Salesman."

Everybody Look

Some of the students in Mr. McAdoo's English class take a short break to see what the others are doing.

History

Brain Power

Junior students in Mr. Povlick's P.O.D. class use all their brain power on yet another one of his chapter tests.

Making The Grade

Studying intently, senior Brandon Bogdon finishes up his Economics homework trying to beat the bell.

Best Friends

Mr. Dobrinick and his favorite student Mike Mattei give a big smile for the yearbook.

Taking Notes

Sophomore, Heather Nagy faithfully reads her American Cultures book as she takes notes.

Digging For Gold

Yet another productive day for Jesse Bowman in Economics class.

Cultured Students

Sophomore students let their minds wander as they sit through a wonderful American Cultures II class.

Waiting For The Bell

Sophomore, Chuck McLaughlin waits patiently for the bell to ring.

Looking Back On History

There are many thoughts that come to mind when you recall the history classes you've experienced from grade to grade.

There are a variety of unique teachers in the Social Studies Department here at Carlynton. From Mr. Dobrinick talking about our mothers-in-law to referring to us as studda bubbas, (Polish for old grandma) to Mr. Fox saying the same thing at the beginning of every test, "Don't write on my paper, write on yours a-and good luck!" We are lucky to be graced by such interesting teachers. Many activities also take place over the course of the school year among the history classes. In Economics, a project involving students preparing their own baking company with advertisements and homemade goods is open to the school. This taught students how to run a business and make money. Mr. Dobrinick took his juniors to view the new Holocaust Museum in Washington D. C., and Mr. Povlick may embark on a trip to the nation's Capitol as well.

From the beginning of seventh grade to our final year as seniors, it is quite obvious for students to see that teachers at CHS offer ample opportunities to get involved and learn about history.

Studying Vigorously In Spanish

Look at these students working so hard to do their best in Mrs. Puchi's Spanish I class.

Returning Tests

This is something you either love or loathe in French class. Smile guys, it can't be that bad.

Helping Out

Frau Coit assists a German student with her homework that she is struggling with.

Qu'est-que c'est?

Through foreign language classes, students at Carlynton are able to become acquainted not only with speaking the language, but learning about the country itself as well.

This year, with the help of our three foreign language teachers; Mrs. Coit, Mrs. Cumo, and Ms. Puchi, a group of students from Carlynton will be embarking on a three-week tour of Europe. This expedition is called the Study Travel Group. This will surely be a cultural experience for the German - French - Spanish - speaking pupils of CHS.

Learning a foreign language is a unique experience. It is not like other classrooms. A language classroom has to be informal and comfortable, because tension decreases the language process. Challenging activities, as well as relaxing games, are used to practice what has been taught.

-Rebecca Lee

HA! HA! HA!

Funny boys Shawn Heinrich and Matt Garland get in a little bit of trouble for their hilarious sense of humor.

Learning Is Fun

Chuck Pfeffer enjoys his absolutely thrilling learning experience in his Spanish class. Too bad the other students aren't as hyped.

Looky Here!!!

Valerie Shields and Nathan Volk attentively learn a few fun French facts while Casey Jordan is just kickin' it in the back row.

Happy To Help

Keith Dreshman and Brian Bittner ask Mrs. Cumo for some help. Although they are former French students they can still count on a helping hand from Mrs. Cumo

Cookin' CHS
This underclassmen Home Economics class cooks up a storm in our state-of-the-art kitchens.

Laugh It Up Kids

Mr. Harris takes a few minutes to straighten up some of his kids in his class.

Keep It Up

A few kids work hard enough to get the job done.

Smile Pretty

A couple of Mr. Harris' students in Graphic Arts class draw with thought.

You're Caught

A few of the students are caught by the camera at what they were not supposed to be doing.

It's Your Choice

Electives are an important asset to CIS. With choices for future artists, such as Studio Art and Drawing and Painting, and industrial arts choices such as Woodworking and Drafting, a student can be well prepared for his future college and career plans. Music is another selection here at CIS, from Girls' Ensemble to Chorus. Carlynton has an excess amount of talent to work with this year and for many years to come.

Probably the largest department of electives would be the business department. With teachers such as

Mrs. Kohl and Mrs. Nazar, a student can be well trained in the business world. Typing, Academic Keyboarding, and Accounting are a few of the semester courses that could help with future college courses and especially with the typing skills needed to write many college essays and produce a decent yearbook.

Art Easy As 1, 2, 3

The Art department here at Carlynton is something I've participated in from the 7th grade. This art experience can always be enjoyable if you're committed to your work.
Although in your 7th and 8th grade
it's mandatory to take an art class, you later have a choice of electives including Drawing and Painting, Basic art, Studio art, Visual Arts, and Crafts. If you are interested in the field of art, these classes can be very helpful. But if you think it will be an easy credit, or an easy A for that matter, you'll be sadly mistaken.

These courses can only benefit you if art is something you can take seriously and devote a lot of time and practice to. Before long you'll have something you're proud of.

-Rebecca Lee

Keeping Us In Shape

The Physical Fitness Department run by Ms. Ripple, Mr. Ferrone and newcomer Mr. Banaszak is starting to pick up. While keeping up with our volleyball, basketball, and swimming skills, these gym teachers have found time to stick in some new activities such as country line dancing, aerobics, and if we're lucky a few of Mr. Ferrone's killer dodge games.

As if these three teachers don't have enough to do teaching all grades 7-12, they each have other programs to run. Mr. Ferrone is in charge of the volleyball club. Mr. Banaszak teaches health, which can be a sticky subject to some young minds, and Ms. Ripple, along with good friend Dr. LaLumere, is an instructor to Carlynton's Peer Helper group, a nationwide organization.

So as you can see, these three physical fitness teachers aren't just thinking of new games for us to play, they're out coordinating helpful activities and classes for us as well.

-Meghan Rogers

Staying Alert

Jonathan Ford eagerly awaits a hockey ball to come flying his way to show off his skills as a senior.

Aerobicizing

Lauren Rost patiently tries to teach Corrine Gaglia the aerobics steps to the dance they've made up.

Giving Advice

Mr. Ferrone thoughtfully helps Jessica LaLumiere with a question about her homework due next period.

Marching Band

Golden Cougar Color Guards

The CHS Golden Cougar Marching Band Color Guards, though young, have shown great dedication and pride in their work. They have shown that practice makes perfect. Their skills are something to be proud of.

Golden Cougar Marching Band Cougarettes

The 1993-1994 Cougarettes, headed by senior Pam Price and junior Jennifer Kosakowski, put on a great half time show for the pep rallies and football games. Their performances are well received by the crowds.

Senior Cougarettes

Seniors Diana Knestrick, Stacey O'Toole, Lawree Jones and Pam Price leave the field for the last time on Senior night.

Cold Feet?

Drum Major Mike Checco leads his band to play in front of a large crowd on Senior Night, also the last home football game of '93.

Honk! Honk!

Salute

The Cougarettes stand at attention as the band plays the National Anthem before the game.

Struttin' Their Stuff

All decked out in their band shirts, the Cougarettes groove to the music.

Golden Cougar Marching Band

What is there to say about the Carlyn-ton Band? Is it just a small group of students who have nothing better to do or is it more than that? Well, there must be something motivating them to do what they do. Something must be driving them to put in hours of practice and hard work. After the first football game halftime show, or after the first parade, every band member then knows what has driven them to be their best. Pride, accomplishment, and usually fatigue are all the words to describe the emotions felt.

Band is also a place where everyone has a common interest, the same goals and same motivations. With Mr. Ferro's dedicated direction, the Carlyn-ton Band is clearly holding their own.

Take A Bow!

The eight person cast of "Lend Me A Tenor" takes a bow after two months of hard work. Everyone in the cast did a wonderful job.

Behind The Scenes.

From painting scenery to managing props, Jim Malizio, Carrie Barth, Jenn Johnston, Jordan Mueller and Tanya Julia were a major asset to the production.

Lend Me A Tenor

This year's play, "Lend Me A Tenor," put on by Cynthia Harris and John McAdoo, both of Carlynton's English Department, was one of the best put on by CHS students since their first, on the night of January 16th, just four years ago.

From beginning to end, "Lend Me A Tenor," a comedy by Ken Ludwig, kept the audiences rolling in the aisles. The play, consisting of two confused lovers, two screaming Italians, a ranting Opera manager, a flustered Opera guild director, a sexy soprano and a side-splitting bellhop, was a wonderful combination of acting as well as singing. The cast included senior Jesse Bowman, who will be sadly missed on stage next year, juniors Mike Checco, Keith DeRenzo, Jessica LaLumere, Rebecca Lee, Justin Morris, Meghan Rogers, and Jackie Urso.

This year's production was a huge success due to a number of reasons. Advertisements were taken very seriously. Twenty tickets were sold by each cast member, posters were hung on every business window, and on the night of open house the actors and actresses arrived dressed in character to sell tickets to CHS parents. A great deal of effort was put forth by all. The parents of each cast member had meetings to assist in making the play a hit. The Carlynton Drama Department gets better and better every year due to productions such as "Lend Me A Tenor."

Keeping Warm
A group from the Phantom trip stand close to try and warm up while they move to their right to enter the gentleman's restroom. It was surprisingly warm in there. Wonder why?

Venturing Out

While venturing from Toronto, Canada to see "The Phantom of the Opera" to Washington D.C. to the Holocaust Museum to our local Carnegie Science Center, our school has a wide variety of field trips throughout the year. While most of our field trips are sponsored by the A. T. E. program, there are also many separate trips sponsored by different classes. These experiences can be very educational to the students and help them understand what they're being taught in a much more interesting way, rather than usually being lectured to. They also give the students a chance to explore unfamiliar cities by roaming about the streets, getting lost, or discovering that the Pearl Jam tape was only $7.99 when released in Canada (good deal). One of the most important parts of a field trip is how to pay for it. This triggers many fund raisers of any kind, from pizza and hoagies to Sarris candy bars. So in conclusion, look forward to the many field trip opportunities in the future and maybe there will be one that interests you.

A Berry Merry Christmas

"Ho, Ho, Ho! Merry Christmas!" exclaimed Santa joyfully, while greeting incoming students to the dance.

This year the Junior High Student Council kicked off its festivities and held the First Annual Christmas Dance on December 17, 1993. With strong efforts, the cafeteria was transformed into a "beautiful winter wonderland," quotes Shara Vales, President. Red, white and green balloons bobbed gently around the room, while twinkling lights hovered above, creating a romantic Christmas effect. Adding a new twist, they featured "Get your pictures taken with Santa Claus" and a new DJ. Although the overall turnout rate was average, everyone danced and enjoyed themselves.

Behind the scenes J.H. Student Council members breathed a sigh of relief, as the dance began. For half a month, they held numerous meetings debating various issues and making decisions. The rest of their time was dedicated to speaking with authorities and shopping for decorations.

"Preparation for the dance was a lot of fun, but most students do not realize how much work is required," says Shara Vales with a weary smile.

In closing, the J.H. Student Council would like to express their thanks to all those who contributed in making this dance a success.

-Shara Vales

On Our Own ... But With A Little Help

ADS

It's always good to know that people are standing behind you, helping you achieve and never letting you fail to be your best. This section just goes to show how our families, friends, and the community believe in us, proving We're On Our Own ... But With A Little Help.

Our Town

A few of the students as you can see enjoy the lunch period. Some of them a little too much. Here are some juniors doing the bird dance.

Shannon,

You were always such a sweet little girl, my helper — your questions helped me to find new beauty in the world. I love the young woman you've become — confident, talented, self-assured, but sometimes I really miss the little girl you once were. I'm very proud of you.

Love,
Mom

Brandon,

We can never say Life has been dull since you came into our lives eighteen years ago. Our wish for you is for you to reach out and strive for your goals for your future. We love you very much.

CONGRATULATIONS MANDY!

May you have a lifetime of happiness ahead of you.

Love,
Dad, Mom, Jon, Becky,
Janie and Pooky

Jarrett, it is so hard to believe the time has come for you to take your place in life as a young adult. We are excited for you and the path you have chosen. We are happy to be a part of your accomplishments and ambitions, and hope to see you realize each one. But more than any words can say, we are proud of you and hope you will always find the things that will make your life a truly happy and fulfilling one.

Congratulations! We Love You! Mom and Dad

Eric,

We couldn't be prouder
of our only son. You will be the kind of person to make a difference in our world.

GOOD LUCK!

We Love You,

Mom & Dad &
Sisters

Lee,

Our oldest son - we are so proud of you and all your accomplishments in all you've done. You've grown up so fast! It seems like yesterday we were sending you off to school, and now you're ready to make all your dreams come true. Congratulations!

We love you,
Mom, Dad, Keith, Tina
Dreshman & Witner Families

Chiana,

Congratulations - we are very proud of you.

Who would have thought that our little girl would be Vice President of her Senior Class and on her way to college? The years are going by too fast. Remember, you can be whatever you want to be if you try.

Love, Mom & Dad, your sisters Chree & Cardelle

For the second year in a row, they said it couldn't be done. But the staff and myself believed in ourselves and worked hard to produce the best volume of Reflections yet. I would like to thank my assistant editors, Meghan Rogers and Rebecca Lee, for all their hard work, dedication, and especially keeping me laughing with Canevin talks. I wish you two all the luck in the world next year — you'll need it. Have a great senior year, guys.

Thanks to all the underclassmen on the staff who wrote all the stories I didn't want to. And most of all, my very special thanks and all my sanity go to Billie Jo Hill, Coach McConnell, and the 1993-94 Lady Cougar Basketball Team. I couldn't have done it without you guys supporting me and all those yearbook parties. I hope everyone enjoys the book. I know the staff does.

Thank you,
Nicole Iacono, Editor

Colophon

The 1994 REFLECTIONS yearbook of Carlynton Junior-Senior High School, Carnegie, Pennsylvania, was printed via offset lithography by Walsworth Publishing Company of Marceline, Missouri. In-plant customer service representative was Donna Bell, local sales representative was Joyce Kundrod, and the advisor was Patricia Lee.

Press run was 300 copies. The book was Smyth sewn, rounded and backed. The cover was printed in Pantone green (#342) with plastic lamination to base material and gold foil (#807) applied.

The cover was designed by Nikki Deal of Walsworth Publishing, to the specifications of Editor Nicole Iacono.

The REFLECTIONS staff was headed by Editor Nicole Iacono and Assistant Editor Meghan Rogers. Writing, photography, advertising, fund-raising and computer input were shared among the following: Emily Adair, Liz Bressler, Danielle Bruder, Melissa Charles, Lee Costa, Beth Killmeyer, Rebecca Lee, Heather McIntosh, Stacey O'Toole, Rick Peelor, Sean Rogers, Amanda Schmidt, Katie Stacy, Toni Thal, Cindy Trecki, George Wellinger, Tracy Wenger, Bobbi White, Robyn Wholey, and Su Yang.

The staff would like to thank the administrators (particularly our principal, Mr. Usher), school board, faculty, coaches and parents (mainly Mrs. Della Iacono) for their cooperation, and the advertisers and contributors for their support. A special thanks to Joyce Kundrod for her many contributions, her encouragement, and especially her equanimity.
